

SENATE PASSES BILL STOPPING PRICE GUESSES

Heflin's Measure Making It a Felony for Government Employee To Forecast Wins.

SENATOR BRUCE VOTES FOR BILL

Provides Fine of $15,000, Five-Year Prison Term or Both for Guessing at Cotton Price.

Washington, May 11.—(P)—Spurred on by Senator Heflin, of Alabama, the senate passed today a bill imposing maximum penalties of $15,000 or five years imprisonment, or both, on any government official issuing or authorizing publication of cotton price predictions. The measure went through 64 to 10.

The Heflin bill follows up a specific interdiction of price forecasts by the agricultural department inserted in the departmental appropriation bill which was also finally completed today in the senate with adoption of the conference report. No penalties attached, however, to the prohibition in that measure and the Heflin bill proposes to put teeth into the ban upon cotton price predictions.

In its original form, the bill would have prohibited such government forecasts as to prices of grain and other agricultural commodities, but these were eliminated by the senate without debate, leaving its application to cotton alone. Senator Heflin originally proposed a penalty of not more than $10,000 or five years, or both, but Bruce, of Maryland, attempted to cut this to $2,500 and two years. Before the Bruce change could be voted on, Heflin shot in a substitute setting the $15,000 and five-year maximum and this went through without a record vote. On the final roll call on the amended bill Bruce first voted no, but changed to aye before the announcement was made.

In the course of the committee hearings department officials explained that the price used word was started three years, the purpose of guiding the cotton growers to the better marketing of their product at orderly prices. Committee members without exception, however, insisted that the September statement had served merely to smash the market and virtually every cotton merchant or cotton exchange official examined agreed that it had precipitated the crash. The departmental witness held the downward trend prediction was fully justified because there was a visible supply of cotton in the world in September of more than 20,000,000 bales offsetting whatever bullish factors were influencing the market.

NEW YORK JURY INDICTS QUARTET IN STREET RAFF

New York, May 11.—(P)—Indicts charging grand larceny and forgery were returned today by a Grand jury against four former employees of the city street cleaning department, accused of having helped defraud the city of between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 annually. War warrants were issued for the arrest of five other employees.

On information furnished by William J. Loughhead, a garage foreman, among those indicted, authorities said, the fraud was carried out through falsified pay roll records and petty graft.

District Attorney McEachan said a check up on 90 names on the Bronx pay roll of the department showed that only five of the persons listed could be located. Some names of persons who never worked for the department and who said they never received any money from it were taken from apartment house letter boxes and placed on the pay roll, authorities said.

China Asks League To Force Japanese Troop Evacuation

Nanking Official Says City Stormed and Men Slain Although War Not Yet Declared.

POWERS FACED BY TECHNICALITIES

Oriental Government Is Not Member; Accused Invaders Must Also Ask for Intervention.

Geneva, May 11.—(United News).—The nationalist Nanking government of China made a direct appeal to the League of Nations today to intervene against Japan and solve a situation which is threatening to disturb international relations.

The appeal was signed by General Tanyenki, chairman of the nationalist government, and charged the Japanese with unprovoked aggression upon Chinese soldiers and civilians, causing more than a thousand casualties at Tsinan-fu.

Acts of War.
Tanyenki called attention to the dispatch of large numbers of troops to Shantung by Japan and alleged many acts of war had been committed. On May 3, he said, Japanese soldiers at Tsinan-fu fired on Chinese soldiers and civilians without provocation and then shelled surrounding residential quarters.

"Japanese hostilities committed there amount to acts of war," the appeal said.

"A party of Japanese soldiers invaded the office of our local commissioner of foreign affairs at Tsinan-fu, arrested him, had his ears and nose cut off, and then shot him, along with three members of his staff, on the very spot," Tanyenki's appeal continued.

Impossible Demands.
"Then on May 4," the Japanese military authorities sent a note to our commander-in-chief making unreasonable and impossible demands with a 12-hour limit for a reply, but without awaiting the reply the Japanese troops started warlike action upon an extensive scale and this has not ceased at the present writing.

"The Tanyenki appeal was immediately communicated to all members of the league council, governing body of the League of Nations, but it was believed doubtful the league could act, since the Nanking government is not a member.

"If the league government should support the appeal or some other league member should call the council's attention to the situation the league could act."

League Investigation.
League intervention and investigation also would be possible should Japan continue to land troops at Tsinan-fu, Tanyenki justified Chinese action.

"Japan continued landing more and more military and naval forces despite the fact we acted with the utmost restraint throughout."

"Hence I take the liberty of calling your attention to the fact that China's territorial integrity and political independence have been ruthlessly violated and the peace of the nations threatened by Japanese aggression."

Summons League.
"You are urgently requested to summon the league council in accordance with paragraph 2, article 11, of the covenant of the league and earnestly urged to request the cessation of hostilities and the immediate withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shantung."

FIGHTING RESUMED IN CITY OF TSINAN.
Tokyo, May 11.—Fighting between Japanese and Chinese nationalists behind the walled city of Tsinan-fu was resumed today.

HOOPER FORCES SPEND $225,000 IN CAMPAIGNS

Manager of Secretary's Race for G. O. P. Nomination Says Sum Is Considered Small.

EDSEL FORD GIVES $5,000 TO HELP

Most Money Goes Into Ohio, Indiana and New York; Some States Not Yet Estimated.

Washington, May 11.—(P)—Turning from his examination of presidential candidates, the senate campaign committee today received a report from James W. Good, former representative from Iowa, showing that at least $225,000 has been expended in behalf of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover for the republican nomination.

Good, who recently was appointed directing manager of the campaign of the secretary of commerce, testified that approximately $115,000 had been spent by Hoover's national headquarters in Washington and by organizations in 14 states.

He added that in addition to this sum he had information that about $55,000 had been spent in New York, a like amount in Indiana and $40,000 in Ohio. Detailed reports, the committee was told, have not come from these three states, or from Florida, Maine, Missouri and New Hampshire, where there has been activity in Hoover's behalf.

Expenditures "Modest."
Insisting that expenditures in furthering the campaign of the commerce secretary had been "modest," Good said he believed the total cost of the Hoover pre-convention campaign would not exceed a quarter of a million dollars. He added that this sum was much less than had been expended in campaigns in the past.

Excluding sums received by the Hoover organizations in Indiana, New York and Ohio, Good submitted figures which showed that the total contributions reported to his headquarters in Washington had been $77,171. Of this amount $37,021 had been accounted for by contributions in eight states, the only ones, he explained, that have submitted reports on receipts.

Reading a prepared statement, the Hoover manager disclosed that of the $50,150 received by the Washington headquarters, $15,000 had been contributed $5,000; Representative Ford, of New Jersey, $2,500; Senator Edge, of New Jersey, $1,000; Julius C. Wald, Chicago merchant, $5,000; Paul Guenther, a retired business man of Dover, N. J., $2,500; H. L. Moses, New York lawyer, $2,500; Walter E. Hope, also a New York attorney, $2,000, and V. E. Macy, a retired business man of Long Island, $2,000.

The $150,000 List.
Three persons were on the list for $150,000 contributions—R. D. Chapin, Arthur Waterfall and Edwin McAuliffe, all of Detroit.

Among those contributing $10,000 were Representative Bowles, of Massachusetts; Laura M. Curtis, of Washington; Laura B. Baker, New York; B. H. Naim, Brooklyn; James H. Post, New York; E. G. Broenman, New York; Robert R. Updegraff, Scranton, N. J.; John H. Bartlett, an assistant postmaster general, and George M. Ralph, Selah H. Chamberlain, Fred W. Van Sickle, F. W. Brady, M. A. Ernst, W. W. Croft and J. D. Grant, all of San Francisco.

Good said that $1,000 in currency had come to his headquarters in an unusual envelope, but that this sum was being held until the identity of the donor could be established. He also told the committee that Senator Moses.

COOLIDGE PLANS TO SIGN FLOOD AID BILL IN FEW DAYS

Washington, May 11.—(P)—President Coolidge expects to attach his signature to the Mississippi flood control bill as soon as interested government departments have examined it and reported to him.

The president has until midnight of May 22 to sign the bill and the development today that he expects to approve it was regarded as indication that the much discussed measure will become law before that date. The office of the army engineers now is studying the bill and it later will be sent to the budget bureau for a check over of cost estimate.

'Miss Georgia' Honor Sought By Girl Host

Sponsor Contest Editor Is Swamped by Flood of Nominations.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
Georgia may be lacking in some things but there is the dearth of attractive girls in this old state. The Constitution, conducting a contest to pick a sponsor to represent Georgia at the Rhododendron festival at Asheville, N. C. June 4 to 9, has been literally swamped by entries from all parts of the state. And every girl nominated for the honor is a girl of charm, culture, standing, talent and grace.

Never before in a contest conducted by this paper to pick out a pretty girl for this, that or the other honor, have so many fine girls been nominated. The various organizations, towns, communities and individuals who have sent in nominations evidently have selected their very choicest flowers, as the collection of photographs received is one which is going to give the judges the task of their lives in picking the winner.

College girls, debutantes, teachers, girls in business life, girls active in civic affairs and girls devoting their time to art, music and dancing have been named and every one of them nominated is good looking and attractive. It is a real honor to be engaged in a contest with such fine girls of this type.

To Close May 15.
The contest will close May 15 and all nominations must be sent to The Constitution by that date. From the list sent in will be selected the preliminary winners and their pictures will be printed in the rotogravure section of The Constitution, Sunday, May 27. This will give the public an opportunity of gazing on the possibilities in the contest and from this list will be selected the girl who is to serve as "Miss Georgia" at the Asheville Rhododendron Festival, which is one of the outstanding social events of the entire south.

From the material now in hand The Constitution is assured that it will

MAN BADLY CUT BY SON-IN-LAW

J. B. Young Is in Serious Condition at Grady and Samuel Sims Is Under Arrest.

Slashed about the back and stomach Friday night by his son-in-law, J. B. Young, 51, of 20 Baltimore block, was in Grady hospital Friday night in a serious condition, while police held Samuel Sims, of 139 Cain street, N. W., without bond on a blanket charge of suspicion pending outcome of Young's condition.

According to witnesses, Sims called at Young's home and asked permission to see Young's daughter, Sims' estranged wife. Police investigators were told that the father-in-law told Sims to go around to the rear door if he wanted to see his wife.

Sims went to the rear door, and when Young there it open his knife, according to police reports, slashing him severely about the stomach and back. He was carried to Grady hospital.

Call Officers Bill Holland and John Ector investigated.

MAHARAJEE NANCY ARRIVES IN FRANCE DECKED IN GEMS

Marseilles, May 11.—(P)—The former Maharajah of Indore and his bride and Maharajee, the former Nancy Miller, of Seattle, arrived here today.

The two, linked arm in arm walked proudly down the gangplank of the "City of Baroda" to the pier, followed by a retinue of servants and aides, such as an Oriental potentate might well carry with him.

The Maharajee appeared a triple fatigued and her right eye showed a trifling discoloration. The result of a recent slight injury. She wore a black silk dress nearly down to her ankles, a black satin cloak covered with small Indian designs, and three large strings of pearls. Large and most admirably matched. Three magnificent rubies completed her adornment.

The two left for Paris at 6 o'clock on the regular train but a special car had to be added for their baggage. Identifying an extended absence from India.

SENATOR WHEELER ENDORSES SMITH AS PARTY CHOICE

Declares Governor Would Stand for Law Enforcement, Aid Farmers and Be True Democrat.

Washington, May 11.—(P)—The candidacy of Governor Smith, of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination was endorsed today by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, a colleague of Senator Walsh, who withdrew from the race last week.

In a letter to W. W. McDowell, chairman of the Montana democratic central committee, Wheeler declared "in my judgment, Governor Smith should be nominated at Houston by acclamation. He is now the best bet of the democrats."

Senator Wheeler, who was a candidate for vice president in the last election on the third party ticket, would, as the late Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, declared in the letter that Smith "is a liberal in the best sense of the word."

Senator Wheeler's letter recalled that he had hoped that a Montanan, his colleague, Senator Walsh, would win the nomination, but that "it became apparent to Senator Walsh, as it did to many of his friends, that the democrats of the nation were in favor of the candidacy of Governor Smith."

"Governor Smith is a born democrat. He has not been weaned or educated or frightened away from the principles of fundamental democracy. His heart beats close enough to the hearts of the plain people for them to understand him. He is a man of the people."

He declared the governor's record is such that "if an confident he would, as president, use his best endeavors to place the farmers of the middle west and west and other groups of the nation on an equal footing with the manufacturers of the east."

The letter continued: "As to the proposed amendment, Governor Smith favors law enforcement. Under the present administration, with an ex-distiller at the head of the treasury department, we have theoretical enforcement and actual nullification."

"Every right-thinking person deplores the breakdown of law enforcement under the Harding-Coolidge regime, accompanied as it has been by wholesale corruption. It would be impossible for conditions to be worse than they are in this regard today. Under Smith I am sure there would be improvement."

NINE OFFICIALS OF FLORIDA NAMED IN FRAUD CASES

Deland, Fla., May 11.—(P)—Indicts charging nonfeasance, malfeasance, misfeasance and illegal acceptance of money by five Volusia county commissioners, and fraud on the part of four Deland city officials. Under election judges were returned by a grand jury sitting here today.

The county commissioners indicted were W. P. Wilkinson, chairman; W. C. Jackson, G. A. Tyler, C. B. Jones and W. H. McBride. Mayor E. W. Brown, W. O. Lahrman and Charles H. Healy, city commissioners; City Attorney D. C. Hall and Robert H. Brown and J. E. Gates, the election judges, were named in a fraud indictment.

Specific allegations against the officials were not made public.

PREFERRED PLACE ON HOUSE AGENDA FOR VINSON BILL

Washington, May 11.—(P)—A resolution requesting the rules committee to give Vinson cotton bill preferred legislative status in the house was introduced today by Chairman Hagen, of the agriculture committee, which recently approved the measure.

The bill, sponsored by Representative Vinson, democrat, Georgia, would provide the regulation of cotton futures exchanges.

Introduction of a resolution is the usual procedure followed in an attempt to bring the bill to the house floor for action. The agriculture committee chairman asked that the measure be called up under an agreement to provide for two hours' general debate of its provisions.

Two Georgia Plays Enter Final Tryout

"Pink and Patches" and "Hero Worship" in Belasco Cup Contest.

New York, May 11.—(P)—Two Georgia plays are among the four chosen as finalists in the Little Theatre contest for the Belasco trophy, "Pink and Patches," presented by Agnes Scott college, Decatur, Ga., and "Hero Worship," presented by the Town Theater of Savannah, Ga.

The other two finalists are, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," given by the Adrossan and Saltcoats plays of Adrossan, Scotland, and "The Valiant," presented by the Thalian Players, of New York.

The winner will be selected tomorrow night when the four productions are presented a second time.

The New York Times tomorrow will say, "Hero Worship" presented tonight was a very well done story of a civil war veteran who lives in idle luxury, boasting of prowess on the battlefield.

Lucy McIntyre as "Miss Robbins," John Mercer as "orphaned grand son," gave exceptionally good performances.

"Liljah," by the Birmingham, Ala., Little Theater, "The Times" will say, is more a sketch than a play, and "The Valiant," by the Thalian Players, was excellent in the role.

"Dreamy Kid," by the Memphis, Tenn., Little Theater, also was presented tonight.

Telegraphic dispatches received in Atlanta stated that in addition to winning a place in the finals, "Hero Worship" and "Pink and Patches" were the two $250 Samuel French prizes for the best unpublished plays produced in the sixth annual National Little Theater tournament.

GRAY VETERANS MARCH TO 'DIXIE'

Some of Them Too Old and Ride in Cars as Reunion Ends; Taps Near for Old Army.

Little Rock, Ark., May 11.—(P)—Bearing fresh memories of the eventful days of the sixties, 3,000 United Confederate veterans were scattering tonight after their 28th annual reunion—the last for many of them.

Little Rock's second reunion and believed by many to be the last to be held west of the Mississippi river was brought to a close today with a spectacular parade of the veterans, participated in by several thousand descendants of Confederates.

It was different from the first held 17 years ago.

In that, 10,000 or more survivors of the Confederate army marched with martial tread to the sacred tunes of "Dixie." Today probably a third of that number acceded to the changes wrought by time and rode in automobiles and trucks—many of them unwillingly, to be sure.

"Dixie" Brings Cheers
The strains of "Dixie," played by the United States Marine band and more than a dozen other musical organizations, still found a soft spot in their hearts and as the notes of that famous song reached their ears hats waved out of car windows feebly but enthusiastically.

The last gesture of the reunion was the delivery of these troops of a 60-year-old army into the command of a new leader, General Albert T. Goodwyn, of Elmore, Ala., by the retiring commander, Gen. J. C. Foster, Houston, Tex.

70 to 107 Years.
Tonight's parting brought tears to the eyes of many of the old soldiers, none of whom is younger than 70 and the oldest of whom at this reunion was 107.

It doubtless was the last parting for many and all of them realized they might be in the company that passes from the ranks before the next reunion.

Only one serious accident marred the success of the reunion. Brigadier General Zach Wardlaw, 84, of Utica, Miss., commander of the First First of the Mississippi department of veterans, slipped and fell down a flight of stairs in a hotel and was fatally injured. His body was sent to Utica for burial.

The veterans will gather next year at Charlotte, N. C.

AMERICAN FLIERS WILL GET BREMEN OUT OF MUD HOLE

Planes Are Dispatched After German Ambassador Makes Official Request to Army Heads.

ONLY WEEK MORE REMAINS FOR WORK

Crew of Three in Chicago Say Their Plans Call for Return Flight to Berlin From Boston.

Miller Field, N. Y., May 11.—(P)—Two army amphibian planes from Bolling field, Washington, landed here tonight on the first leg of a flight to Bremen, Germany, where they will aid in removing the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen.

The pilots gave no indication as to when they would continue the journey north. It is the war department's plan to send the planes to Labrador with Fred Melchor, chief Junkers mechanic, before the ground at Bremen becomes too soft from the spring thaw to permit a safe take-off in the Bremen.

The planes, amphibians, were piloted by Captain Ira Eaker and Lieutenant Muir Fairchild. With Eaker was Brigadier General Fechet, chief of the army corps of engineers.

At Mitchell field the planes will pick up Melchor, who will superintend efforts to loose the Bremen from the soft mud holding her on Bremen.

May Use Parachutes.
The aviators expect to reach the island Monday, and if a landing field is not available, Melchor will drop from 2,000 feet with two parachutes. The expedition was decided upon after the German ambassador had asked if the flights could be made. With Canadian officials assisting to the plan, the expedition was decided upon.

After taking off at New York the army planes will stop at Pictou, Nova Scotia, and St. George, Newfoundland. Melchor spent some time at Mitchell field today familiarizing himself with operation of the army parachutes. He will be equipped with a 24-foot chute and another training chute of 28 feet diameter.

Since the relief pilot got the Bremen off the ground, the plan is to get her into the air with as light a load of fuel as possible, enough to carry her to St. George.

Take Supply of Food.
The expedition was decided upon after Miss Herta Junkers, daughter of the head of the Junkers company, conferred last night with Assistant Secretary Davison, of the war department.

HAROLD HAMMOND IS GIVEN RESPITE

Renewal of a desperate fight to save the life of Harold Hammond, condemned to be executed May 18, came Friday when Governor L. G. Hardman granted a 30-day respite to the condemned man to give his attorneys time to submit a plea for a commutation of the death sentence to the state prison commission. The respite also was based on the desire of the governor to study Hammond's mental condition and to give the attorney time to investigate new evidence in the case upon which they hope to have an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

The respite of Hammond came close after the governor had granted a 90-day respite to Wade Johnson, condemned to execution in Jones county Friday, May 11, and within a few hours after R. H. Sheppard won an automatic respite when the court obtained the signature of the trial judge to a bill of exceptions upon which an appeal will be made to the state supreme court.

Evidence was placed before Governor Hardman Friday by juries and others who have been observing Hammond recently to the effect that he has been suffering with epileptic fits and is virtually insane. Hammond was convicted of killing Mrs. Lottie Bell Ingram and her infant child about a year and a half ago.

One unique feature of Hammond's case is the fact that his attorney, Carl Lancaster, is held in jail following his conviction of a statutory charge upon which he was given a twenty-year sentence. Lancaster was taken to the capital Friday in the custody of a deputy sheriff and filed his plea for Hammond before the governor.

Thomas J. Lewis, who was appointed to represent Hammond in the absence of Lancaster, also appeared in the case. An appeal to the state prison commission for a commutation will be made next week.

Wade Johnson was to have been hanged Friday at Gray, Ga. He was convicted prior to the enactment of the electric chair law in Georgia, and if the governor does not commute his sentence he will be the last white man in Georgia doomed to execution on the gallows. Johnson was convicted of participating in a criminal assault on an aged white woman, Jarrett Binford, convicted in the same case, was sentenced to death, but this sentence was commuted by Governor Clifford Walker to life imprisonment and he is now serving this sentence. A large delegation of Jones county citizens is making a fight for the commutation of the death sentence imposed on Johnson.

Sheppard was twice convicted of the murder of Homer Fowler and received a death sentence at each conviction. He won a new trial in the supreme court in the first case when the second trial was held he was again convicted and given the extreme penalty. His attorneys filed their bill of exceptions before Judge G. H. Howard, of the Fulton superior court, and when the judge signed the bill it automatically gave a stay of execution to the condemned man until his case can be decided by the supreme court.

HEAVY PEACH CROP
SEEN FOR JACKSON COUNTY THIS YEAR

Commerce, Ga., May 11.—The orchards in the vicinity of Commerce are very heavy with what will soon be luscious ripe peaches. There are so many peaches on many of the trees in many of the orchards that some of the proprietors of these orchards are advertising for peach pickers as many as 100 a day for the next thirty days to thin the unusually heavy growth of peaches, as the fewer peaches there are the larger they will be and consequently the bigger prices they will bring.

BROTHERS ARE HELD FOR NEGRO'S DEATH

Statesboro, Ga., May 11.—Charles and Erastus Mixon, of the upper part of this county, were arrested here late Thursday afternoon and lodged in the Bulloch county jail, in connection with the murder of Lewis Garlin, negro.

It is alleged that the Mixon boys had been on a rampage all day and had visited the negro's house. The negro was found dead Thursday morning and a coroner's jury found that he came to his death at the hands of an unknown. Both boys deny the murder. Deputy Sheriff Joe Tillman, after an afternoon of investigation had rounded up considerable evidence concerning the case.

GEORGIA DOCTORS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Savannah, Ga., May 11.—(P)—Dr. C. K. Sharp, of Arlington, was chosen president of the Medical Association of Georgia today in the annual election in the closing session of the convention, in which close races for practically all offices were marked. Twenty ballots were necessary in some races to decide the winner and in only two instances were officers chosen on a single ballot.

Other officers elected were Dr. W. R. Doney, Savannah, president-elect; Dr. W. C. McCurry, Hartwell, first vice president; Dr. M. Hines, Roberts, Atlanta, second vice president, and M. A. Clark, Macon, parliamentarian, re-elected. Delegates elected to the American Medical association were Dr. William H. Meyers, of Savannah, and Dr. E. C. Thrash, of Atlanta. The alternates are Dr. W. A. Mulhern, of Augusta, and Dr. C. S. Roberts, of Atlanta.

Macon Selected.
Macon was selected as the 1929 convention city by unanimous vote.

Dr. E. C. Thrash, of Atlanta; Dr. M. H. Head, of Zebulon, and Dr. H. M. Fullilove, of Athens, were elected councilors for the fifth, sixth and eighth districts, respectively.

The balloting for the presidency was unusually close. On the first ballot, three votes separated Dr. Sharp and his closest competitor, with three votes divided among two other candidates. On the second ballot, only one vote separated the two leaders, and the third candidate received two votes, the same as he had polled on the first count. The third and final ballot, with only the two leaders in the race, resulted in both receiving the same number of votes as on the preceding count, and Dr. Sharp was elected by a majority of one vote over Dr. A. J. Mooney, of Statesboro.

Dr. Dancy, the president-elect, was elected on the first ballot. He will assume the presidency without opposition on the expiration of Dr. Sharp's term next year.

A number of technical papers were read prior to the election. The convention adjourned at 2 o'clock.

the widening of Peters street, as well as the widening of Whitehall street, which should be done at the earliest possible date," Mr. Peacock said.

"Another matter in which I am extremely interested is the opening of Mitchell street over the railroads at the Terminal station. The Mitchell street viaduct has been closed for something like six months, and I understand that the money appropriated to do this work has been diverted to other parts of the city.

"The first ward is the second largest taxpaying ward in the city, and gets less for its money than any other ward," Mr. Peacock declared. "I pledge myself, if elected, to serve to the limit of my ability and capacity, not only the interests of the first ward but the city as a whole."

Mr. Peacock's entrance fee was recently paid by a committee of his friends, who qualified him for the office. He has been a resident of the first ward for nearly half a century, having been in business in Atlanta for approximately half of that time.

Mr. Peacock always has taken a prominent part in city and county affairs, and was one of the prime movers in the bond election several years ago.

A. M. E. TO VOTE ON BILL FOR CHURCH PENSIONS

Chicago, Ill., May 11.—(Special.)—The general conference of the A. M. E. church opened the morning session with Bishop William H. Heard, of Philadelphia, presiding. The report on Sunday School union, Nashville, Tenn., was read by the secretary-treasurer, Ira T. Bryant. This report was the greater in its history. The church extension, Washington, made its report through its secretary, S. E. Johnson. A bill to pension general officers was introduced. The financial report was considered the keynote of the general conference. The outstanding features of the report and address were more religion in business and more business in religion, higher standard for the ministry, equalization of episcopal districts, equalization of presiding elder districts, rotation of bishops at least every eight years, better support for the bishops, better provision for the superannuated ministers, widows and orphans. The adoption of these measures is practically assured.

MAKING MONEY
In Real Estate

Practical men, successful men, thinkers have long recognized that no other investment in the world is so safe, sure and swift in its returns as real estate. Every sound reason that prompts real estate investment applies to GARDEN HILLS. Its location, on Peachtree Road, south of Buckhead, extending thru wooded hills to Piedmont avenue, cannot be excelled.

In a recent newspaper announcement Mr. Harry M. Paschal, vice president of the Atlanta Title & Trust Co., said:

"Of considerable interest to speculators in vacant lots is the announcement of two more sales by lot purchasers in Garden Hills. In one case, a profit of $325 was realized, the lot having been purchased for $1,800 and resold for $2,125. In the other case, a profit of $650 was made by the investor, he having bought the lot at $1,800, reselling it at $2,450. Taking into consideration the fact that the lot purchasers had invested in cash only about 20 per cent of the purchase price of the lots, the profit is very great; the profit in one case amounting to 200 per cent on the investment, and in the other, 100 per cent."

GARDEN HILLS is well developed, well built up. It is in the profit-taking period. The property is protected by the same restrictions that create values in the best city residential districts. Enormous sums have been, and are being, spent on building development—value makers. An excellent choice of lots is still available. The time to buy is NOW.

ROTARIANS MEET HERE ON MONDAY

More than a thousand Rotarians from all parts of Georgia and Florida are expected in Atlanta next Monday and Tuesday in attendance at the annual conference of the thirty-ninth district of Rotary, which is to be held here. Registration of delegates will begin at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at the Biltmore hotel. At 8 o'clock Monday morning, registration headquarters will be moved to the auditorium of the Woman's club, on Peachtree street, where sessions of the conference are to be held.

Elaborate plans for the entertainment of visiting Rotarians have been made by the Atlanta club and, in addition to the two days of important business conferences, many items of entertainment have been arranged for. Special entertainment for the wives and daughters of the visiting Rotarians has been arranged.

Among the distinguished visitors coming for the conference is Marcel France, director of Rotary International, from Paris, France. An address from Monsieur France and the report of the district governor, Robert T. Arnold, of Jacksonville, are highlights of the program.

Talks at the sessions will be limited to very short length, it is announced, with general singing, announcements, and selections by three double quartettes—from Valdosta, Macon and Newnan—freely interspersed.

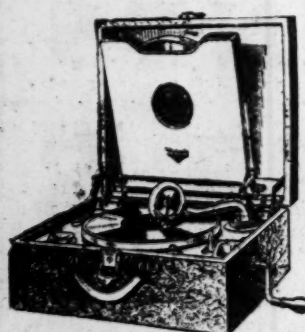

Chuck Palmer is general chairman of the local reception committee, with Gene Harrington acting as special chairman for the hotel, receptions committee and John Woodside in charge of the welcoming group which will meet all incoming trains beginning Sunday morning. Howard Candler is chairman of the finance committee, with Charles Carroll heading the emergency committee and C. D. Atkinson, chairman of publicity.

CHURCH UNION PLAN RATIFIED

Kansas City, May 11.—(AP)—The Methodist Episcopal church in the quadrennial conference today ratified the plan of church union and announced its readiness to receive and extend overtures for closer cooperation and union with like-minded denominations.

A single commission of 27 members was approved to represent the church in all unification discussions.

The personnel of seven bishops, fifteen ministers and fifteen laymen is to be announced by the board of bishops May 21. Expenses of the commission were ordered paid by the general conference.

Overwhelming Vote
The action was taken by a vote of 852 to 39. Only technical points were argued in debate and the conference refused to send the resolution back to committee for reconsideration in minor points.

It had received the unanimous approval of 99 members of the committee on state of the church, Dr. Daniel L. Marshall, chairman, and president of Boston university, reported, Dr. Marshall hailed the move as the "one of the most significant things done by any religious body in a long time."

Prime significance was attached to the church's declaration because like proposals will be made before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America at Tulsa, Okla., May 24 to 30. Eventual union with all the Pres-

TRUCK DRIVER FINED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Although he insisted that his heavy truck was incapable of making over 15 miles per hour, Henry Jones, of 285 E. Harry street, was fined $25 for speeding by Recorder Murphy M. by the Methodist church and with the Congregationalist church was sought in more than a dozen memorials sent to the committee of which today's resolution was the synthesis. Delegates estimated that church negotiations in the three churches would involve 60,000 churches, 55,000 pastors and educators, the spiritual interest of about 35,000,000 people and property valued at approximately $1,300,000,000.

ROCKEFELLER GETS OVATION AT MEET

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—An ovation of several minutes' duration greeted the introduction of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., last night before the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce of the United States, which previously had gone on record with a severe condemnation of corruption of public officials by men of the business world.

Mr. Rockefeller has demanded the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, as chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, as a result of the latter's testimony before the senate oil committee, but refused to comment further on his action during his visit to Washington.

The prolonged applause and cheers greeted the financier after Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric company, had eulogized him as the "conservator and distributor of a great estate, exponent and defender of high standards in business and elsewhere, promoter and supporter of worthy educational and charitable enterprises everywhere."

Asked regarding Stewart's statement in Chicago, Mr. Rockefeller positively declined to comment. "If I did have anything to say," he said, "it would have to be in writing. I am sure you will appreciate the serious situation and understand by position."

The Standard of Indiana official had said that "any communication from any stockholder of the company is entitled to and shall receive from me the most careful consideration," and added that proceedings pending against him in Washington precluded a statement from him at this time. Mr. Rockefeller controls 15 per cent of the Stewart company stock.

Tennessee Sheriff Is Brought Back To Face Charge

Walker, captured here at the home of a daughter, was handcuffed and closely watched by three heavily armed officers from Cumberland county as the return trip was started. His escort was Sheriff R. C. Farmer and Deputies Clarence Turner and J. M. Brandon, all of whom had served as deputies under Walker before he was ousted on charges of misconduct. Walker's extradition proceedings. His capture here was made by nine officers who surprised him at the home of his son-in-law, Virgil Potter, rubber worker.

Atlanta Negro Poet Given Degree by Texas College

Thomas Jefferson Flanagan, Negro poet of Atlanta, photographed at his work in the postoffice. His poems have won him degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Paul Quinn college at Waco, Texas.

Thomas Jefferson Flanagan, Negro poet of Atlanta, has been awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy by Paul Quinn college, Waco, Texas, according to news received Friday by Flanagan from the board of trustees of that institution.

This honor was given the Georgia Negro by the college because of the "sparkling wit and the philosophical turn" of his verse. Many of his poems have been printed in The Constitution.

The latest book of poems by Flanagan is entitled "The Road to Mount McKeithan," and contains more than a dozen of his best works. Among the poems printed in the volume are "On the Road to Mount McKeithan," "Down in Dear Old Georgia," "Where the Raindrops Strummin'," "Sweet Little Mountain," "Morning Streams," "At Love's Gate," "Where Them Little Rascals Stay," and "Good-bye Dear Old Summer."

Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight, former state historian of Georgia, and well known poet, wrote an introduction to Flanagan's book and in this introduction was enthusiastic in his praise of the beauty of the poems.

"He weaves the landscape into his poems," Dr. Knight wrote. "He catches into his rhymes the peculiar notes of our native song birds and gives to his verse, in its almost semitropical influence of color, the familiar richness of our Georgia fields."

Flanagan holds a responsible position with the United States mail service and writes poems during his spare time.

New York, May 11.—(AP)—The inference in death notes and clippings found in the room of Mrs. Jean Lebrun that she had committed suicide because of the death of Leonard W. Bonney, pioneer aviator, was regarded by Bonney's widow today as due to adultery.

The notes left by Mrs. Lebrun said she was killing herself because her "sweetheart was killed in an aviation accident Friday." A picture of Bonney and clippings telling of the accident in which he died last Friday while testing his new plane, the Bonney-Gull, were found in the apartment.

She added she was sure it was a matter of jealousy from a distance. "For instance," she said, "could you blame Rudolph Valentino for all the silly women who killed themselves over his death?"

Mrs. Lebrun, a vaudeville actress, took her life by turning on the gas in the kitchen of her West 88th street apartment. She was 53 years old and a daughter of the late Bishop John James Tigert, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Her maiden name was Amelia Tigert and her home was in Nashville, Tenn.

NYE ASKS SMITH TO AID OIL PROBE

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Chairman Nye, of the senate Teapot Dome committee, wrote to Governor Smith of New York, today asking whether H. M. Blackmer, former chairman of the board of the Midway Refining company, could be indicted under the New York law for his failure to make an accounting to his company for his share of the profits of the Continental Trading company of Canada.

Evidence presented to the oil committee has been that Blackmer, who is self-exiled in Europe, received a total of $800,000 in the Continental oil deal, which sum, in the form of Liberty bonds, is held in a safety deposit box in New York pending a decision by his former company as to whether any effort shall be made to recover it.

She added she was sure it was a matter of jealousy from a distance. "For instance," she said, "could you blame Rudolph Valentino for all the silly women who killed themselves over his death?"

Mrs. Lebrun, a vaudeville actress, took her life by turning on the gas in the kitchen of her West 88th street apartment. She was 53 years old and a daughter of the late Bishop John James Tigert, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Her maiden name was Amelia Tigert and her home was in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. John James Tigert, of Washington, United States commissioner of education, and Dr. Holland Tigert, of Nashville, are brothers. She married Ernest Cooper, of Shelbyville, Tenn., and a divorce followed. Lebrun was a stage name.

WOMAN TO MAKE
TRIPLE PARACHUTE
LEAP AT LAKEWOOD

An unusual aerial stunt will be performed at Lakewood park at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when Miss Louise Gardner, well known ballroom dancer of Boston, Mass., will make a balloon ascension and then come back to earth in a triple parachute leap.

The balloon will be filled directly in front of the grandstand where it will be cut loose with Miss Gardner hanging on to it, Jimmy Anderson, well-known "stunt" artist and a member of the Anderson Balloon company will have charge of inflating the balloon.

The old-fashioned method of inflating the balloon has been discarded by Mr. Anderson, who will use the newest method, by which the big balloon can be filled within few minutes' time.

There will be no admission charged to witness the ascension and gates to the park and grandstand will be thrown open to the general public at 1 o'clock and remain open until 11 o'clock at night.

Wensley, engineer in charge of the automatic section switchboard and engineering department of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, the "mechanical man" obeyed the commands of Dr. Wensley in performing five different tests, raising an American flag, turning on an electric fan, setting vacuum sweeper in operation, turning on a miniature street light and blowing an automobile siren.

ONTARIO PROVINCE IS FLOODED AGAIN

Toronto, May 11.—(AP)—Swollen streams, burdened with the water from melting snow and ice, were still rising today in the flood-stricken areas of Ontario province.

The Gattineau river at Ottawa was still rising and the Montreal river in northern Ontario has reached a level not equaled since the floods of 1909. Floods in the Cobalt district have resulted in operations being suspended at the O'Brien mine in Gowanda, a flume connecting the power house having been washed out. The road from Elkhart to Cobalt was closed, when a bridge went out, and water was standing two feet deep in some parts of Elkhart.

Fear of additional floods from the spring run of logs was expressed by those familiar with conditions in the back country. They said that water held back in the many tributaries of the two rivers in order to float down the logs cut during the winter will soon swell the main streams.

Ponselle Contract
Bars Her Singing
Over the Radio

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Because her contract with the Metropolitan Opera company does not permit her to be broadcast, Carmela Ponselle, mezzo-soprano, will not sing the role of Santuzza in "Cavalleria Rusticana" at Madison Square Garden Sunday night. The opera is to be broadcast.

Miss Ponselle sang in "Aida" at the Garden May 6 when that opera, in concern form, was given before an audience of 12,000 persons and broadcast by Station WABC. That concert brought a ruling from the Metropolitan barring further appearances before the radio.

Anna Ruth Turkel, former candy seller at the Metropolitan, who toured the country last fall with the New York Opera company, has been substituted for Miss Ponselle.

Carmela is a sister of Rosa Ponselle, also a Metropolitan star, and has been with the company since 1925

SMITH HOPE DIES IN ALABAMA POLL

Birmingham, Ala., May 11.—(AP)—With four delegates at large and eight district delegates, officially checked into its column, the anti-Smith faction appeared tonight to have made virtually a clean sweep of the contests for Houston delegation in last Tuesday's primary.

The majority of the votes in the state-wide tabulation were official returns as canvassed by the county committees for certification to the executive state committee.

Exact Vote Delayed.
Incomplete returns from five of the 10 congressional district races and definitely decided, indicated election of anti-Smith candidates, but the exact outcome may not be known until the whole vote is officially checked and announced from Montgomery.

Walter Moore, incumbent, lost to Wait T. Brown, the eighth district, while the Alabama House of Representatives committee, 95,194 to 86,996, while Judge Lucien D. Gardner was returned to the associate supreme court bench by a majority of nearly 2 to 1 over J. W. Bonner. The vote: Gardner 98,103; Bonner 46,703.

SPONSOR CONTEST
SWAMPS EDITOR

have a girl to send to Asheville will be able to hold her own in every respect with the sponsors to be sent by fifteen other southern and western states.

The Constitution wants as many nominations as possible because a first, second and third place award will be made. The first award will be given to the girl who is to serve as sponsor for Georgia and in the event this girl cannot make the trip to Asheville the second girl will serve. If the second girl, for any reason, cannot accept the honor the third girl will be selected.

All expenses to and from Asheville and at Asheville during the Rhododendron Festival week will be paid. The girl who will represent Georgia will be the guest of honor with the other sponsors at the grand Rhododendron ball and will ride in the Rhododendron parade.

Because of the immense amount of interest stirred in the state as a result of this contest some of the organizations nominating girls for the honor have stated that they will send their nominee to the festival regardless of the outcome of the contest. In such a case the girl would go simply as a visitor to the festival but unquestionably would receive many social attentions during the event.

"Beauty" Operation Victim Sues Doctor for $200,000

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—Miss Sadie Holland, whose legs were amputated above the knees after a "beauty" operation, has filed a $200,000 suit against Dr. Henry J. Schireson, Chicago plastic surgeon.

The declaration of the suit sets forth on September 30, 1927, the plaintiff went to Dr. Schireson for treatment of a scar on her arm. The doctor told her that her legs were slightly "bowled" and that he could easily straighten them, her complaint said.

The document further states that on January 14 she paid the doctor $800 for the operation, which was performed three days later, that gangrene set in and that her family physician was forced to order amputation of both legs as a result.

Barrere Little Symphony Gives Delightful Concert

BY LEWIS HAWKINS.
George Barrere and his group of 13 artists composing the Barrere Little Symphony demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of a large audience gathered in the city auditorium Friday night that an orchestra need not have upwards of 60 members in order to render good music in a high degree of artistic perfection.

The closing event of the week will be a concert given at 743 Myrtle street by the group of young artists in the morning. The concert will be given at 743 Myrtle street by the group of young artists in the morning. The concert will be given at 743 Myrtle street by the group of young artists in the morning.

While each offering elicited much enthusiastic applause from the highly appreciative crowd, two parts of the program in particular seemed to win the favor of the assembled music lovers.

One was "The Village Song" by Charles T. Griffes, an American composer, Mr. Barrere prefaced the presentation of this offering by some remarks upon American music and American composers, stating that there is much good music which has been written by Americans within the last few years and that it is heard more often abroad than it is in the native country of its makers. He explained this by saying that due to the fact that many of the European composers are of the native writers that orchestra directors are inclined to present the standard selections which are sure of an enthusiastic reception than they are to offer music which is strange to the listeners; for this reason, he stated, he always tries to make it a point to include one selection by a native composer in his program.

He closed by expressing the hope that the audience would like the one he had chosen to offer. The orchestra proceeded to offer it and the program was loud in its approval of the conductor's judgment and the artists' ability. The other part of the program which seemed to bring the greatest amount of satisfaction were some flute solos with a string accompaniment. Mr. Barrere playing the flute.

The concert was presented by the Atlanta Music club, of which Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore is president, and was arranged as an outstanding feature of music week.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BUY A COAT HALF-PRICE AT ALLEN'S

OF COURSE, in words of one syllable, it means that prices are cut in half—that you can buy a coat for less than it cost to manufacture it.

There is, however, a deeper significance that means even more than the actual saving at the time of the purchase. Allen's policy is never to carry over merchandise from one year to the next. Thus, you will find at half price not shop worn goods, not inferior style nor old garments, but typical Allen style and quality—reduced only because its day is done in Allen's system of turn-over, and it must abdicate in favor of a newer season.

Women, keen shoppers that they are, know well that Allen styles, like the patterns in Vogue, are good for many seasons. And a coat bought now will stand in good stead next Fall! An Allen coat, in season and out, shows a mark of quality that has definite distinction. It is an investment to buy one at any price—a coup d'etat to buy one at a saving!

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

AN UGLY RUMOR

By Thornton W. Burgess.

An ugly rumor travels fast. Until 'tis run to earth at last.

—Old Mother Nature.

There was an ugly rumor going around in the Old Orchard. It had even traveled as far away as the Old Bridgpath, where Peter Rabbit lives. Redwing the Blackbird had heard it over at the Snelling Pool, where he and Mrs. Redwing have "air home among the rushes. It was a very ugly rumor. No one liked to believe it. You know, all the feathered folk of the Old Orchard had good fathers and mothers. They are home lovers. They love their babies and they bring them up the very best they can.

The ugly rumor was that a certain person had been seen sneaking in and out of the homes of others while the owners of these homes were away. No one seemed to know just where that rumor had started, but everyone had heard it.

So a double watch was being kept on all the homes in the Old Orchard. If Mrs. Robin wanted breakfast, Welcome Robin came and sat on the eggs, or sat close by. If Mrs. Chippy felt the need of a little exercise, she wouldn't leave the nest until Mr. Chippy was right there.

It was just the same way with all the other feathered folk in the Old Orchard. They were very vigilant, all of them, and they had a lot to say whenever they were in good society among the feathered folk. No one wanted to have anything to do with her. No one old have anything to do with her. But this didn't seem to upset Sally Sly in the least. For several mornings she had been hanging around the edge of the Old Orchard and as I have already told you rumor said that she had been seen visiting various homes when their owners were absent.

"Tut, tut, tut, tut, tut!" sputtered Jenny Wren. "She'd better keep away from my home. Jenny jumped up and down, flopped up her little tail and looked like a small fury as she said this.

"Don't worry," said Redeye the Vireo. "she can't get into your house if she wants to. It is we folk who have open homes who must watch out for Sally Sly."

"Serve you right!" said Jenny Wren. "If you had any sense all, you would build inside, the way we wrens do. I never could understand this idea of building right out in the open."

"I wouldn't mind so much," spoke up Chippy the Chipping Sparrow. "if she tried her tricks on people her own size. But she doesn't. She always picks out some one not more than half her own size. I know this much—if she tries any of her tricks on me this year, something is going to happen."

"Meaning what?" demanded Welcome Robin, who had been listening. "I'm not saying what, but something's going to happen," replied Chippy dully.

Welcome Robin just had to chuckle. He couldn't help it. Chippy the Chipping Sparrow is such a gentle, mild-mannered little fellow, that to hear him making a threat, and that against one twice his own size, struck Welcome Robin as funny. "You probably mean," said he, "that you'll move off somewhere."

But Chippy wouldn't say what he did mean. He just said he would do something, and if you had heard him you would have thought he was going to do something desperate. Meanwhile, Sally Sly the Cowbird continued to be seen sneaking about through the Old Orchard. Sneaking best expressed the way in which she did.

Olive and Palm Oils

The basis of a true complexion soap to use with make-up

Daily cleansing Nature's absolute rule if the charm of natural loveliness is to be yours.

HERE is the beauty method millions practice every night before bed to gain the charm of natural loveliness.

It starts with complete and proper removal of the make-up—the grime and grease exuded from the pores—at least once daily.

Massage your face with the abundant lather of olive and palm oils as found in Palmolive Soap. It is a soap made for beauty, nothing else. And no other soap combines, in scientific blend, these beautifying oils.

Spend several minutes at your basin doing this. Use your two hands—that's Nature's way. The creamy, soothing lather thoroughly penetrates each tiny pore—gently releases their accumulation of soil and powder and rouge.

Then rinse your face carefully, first with warm water, then cold. And pat the skin with a soft towel until it's dry. A dab of cold cream to ward off dryness is the last touch. That is all, but it's Nature's way to that schoolgirl complexion.

Just be sure you get Palmolive—that's important. Use a cake, any where. The Palmolive-Pect Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Treat your family to Southern Bread—the loaf that is twenty-per-cent richer

IT'S A JOY to cut a loaf of Southern Bread. The crust is so crisp and invitingly browned! The inside is so very white, the holes are so small, and so evenly sized! You just know it's going to taste good. And it is even better than you expect. For Southern Bread is 20% richer!

It comes from your grocer as fresh as though you made it in your own kitchen—fresher perhaps, for Southern Bread is baked twice every day. It's that wonderful rich flavor and unvarying freshness that make Southern Bread such a treat to the family.

If you have not been serving your family with Southern Bread, buy a loaf at your grocer's, tell them about it, and ask them for their verdict. Notice how the children relish this rich, nutritious food! If you're already buying it, you know how likely it is that one loaf won't last over the week-end. May we suggest you buy more than one? It keeps splendidly in its waxed wrapper.

Carney Holds Gamecocks To One Hit and Jackets Win, 4-0

Final Game Slated Today At 3 O'Clock

Tech Team Gives Star Hurler Excellent Support in Opening Game Here.

With Julian Carney pitching almost flawless ball for eight innings, Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets put another conference victory in the ledger when they took the measure of the South Carolina Gamecocks by a 4-0 count at Clay field Friday afternoon.

Carney, holding the Gamecocks hitless for eight innings with a beautiful curve and some line support from his mates, missed putting his name in the Hall of Fame by one scratch hit, when Cooper, pinch-hitter for Riggin, in the last half of the final game, beat out a slow roller to short for a single.

Iszy Schulman, who was on the receiving end of Carney's slants, was also the recipient of a big ovation from the Tech fans who witnessed the affair when he took his position as the game's sounder, and again when he came to bat in the third bracket. He drew a pass from Goodshall, and by some base running of a type never before seen at the field, went from first to third on Carney's sacrifice bunt. He went home from this station when Wimberly, covering the hot corner for Carolina, missed the throw from first, letting it roll to the fence. And thus did the Jackets open the scoring. Shorty Smith, flint out and Terrell took three wild swings to close the inning.

Score Three More

Tech continued and closed the scoring in the fourth frame. McCash, the hard-hitting captain of the North Avenue squad, who enjoyed a perfect day with the stick, gathering in a single and two clouts which went for a couple of sacks, led off with a single. Wimberly followed him with a like effort. Goodshall threw one at Parham which Lanky Boh could not escape. He took first and filled the last half of the inning. Mizell obliged with a double, and went to third when Wimberly relayed

BABY JACKETS TRIM YOUNG BULLDOGS, 4-3

Tech's Baby Jackets made it two out of three from the Georgia yearlings when they scored a pair of runs when the ninth was up, and won on their field at Tech field Friday afternoon.

A bit of heads-up baseball gave Tech the game. With Dunlap on third and Leane on second, Drennon, who was at the bat, was given the squeeze sign and laid down a bunt on which both men crossed the plate. Drennon reached first safely, but the game was over.

G.M.A. Defeated By Locust Grove

Locust Grove, Ga., May 11.—(Special.)—Locust Grove institute downed the G. M. A. baseball crew, of Atlanta, here this afternoon by the score of 9 to 2. Locust Grove pounded two G. M. A. pitchers for 12 hits. Locust Grove has a game Saturday with Riverside and if this title is won the local team will have a strong claim to the G. I. A. baseball title.

Hagen Says Bad Licking Did Him Good

Plenty of Practice Put the "Haig" Into Right Shape To Win After Big Upset.

BY WALTER HAGEN.
British Open and American Professional Champion.
(By Special Cable to The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by The American Newspaper Alliance.)
Sandwich, England, May 11.—Well, I came through for the folks back home, and the British open championship is mine. This afternoon the Prince of Wales gave me the famous old British open championship cup and a medal both of gold, for winning today with a score of 292 for four rounds.

In my I didn't get a big thrill when he said, for I did, I certainly enjoyed every minute of it. I had been doing nothing but play this course for 10 days. I believe I know every blade of grass and the exact location of each bunker.

The beating I received from Compton at Moorpark a couple of weeks ago did me good. I left immediately after to come down here, and I've been doing nothing but play this course for 10 days. I believe I know every blade of grass and the exact location of each bunker.

Good Fortune.
My morning round today was marked by good fortune going on. I began with a five. I put my second shot on the green and with three putts, I got a good four at the second and three at the third, after playing a chip from the embankment behind the green.

Only once was I in real danger of taking a six and that was at the fourteenth, in my last round. I hooked my second shot into a bunker and played out and over the green into heavy grass.

My fourth left me in a three-yard putt for a five, and I holed it. This hole always has been good to me. When I won my first British open here I got four on it, after missing my drive and second shot.

Had To Work Hard.
My routine today did not come easily. I had to work hard all the time but I never lost a stroke through carelessness. I made errors but not one of them cost me more than one stroke.

Tech, Auburn Stars Shine In S. C. Meet

Snider Smashes Record in First Day's Events at Birmingham.

BY HORACE C. RENEGAR.
Birmingham, Ala., May 11.—(AP)—Preliminary tests today in the annual Southern conference track and field meet found the jumping jacks of Georgia Tech and the hurdle hoppers of Auburn flashing brilliantly while others gave promise of hitting stride in the main events tomorrow.

Only one conference record was toppled during the afternoon, Snider, of Auburn, who also takes the hurdles with ease, outdistancing the field in preliminary heats of the 220-yard dash for a new mark of 21.4 seconds compared with the previous mark of 21.6 seconds set in 1925 by Foster, of Virginia Military institute.

A summer warmth prevailed today, making conditions ideal for the contests of Legion Field Bowl. Only a handful of track followers, however, occupied the huge stands, many apparently deciding to wait the main heats of tomorrow.

Nears Record
Some of the most noticeable marks of the day included the discus throw of Lunt, of Virginia Polytechnic institute, his toss of 135 feet 1 inch falling only a little more than a foot short of the conference mark.

Hanna, Georgia Tech, the national intercollegiate broad jump champion, had things his own way in that class, his best leap, 24 feet 7.4 inches, approaching the conference mark, although shy of his sensational 25-foot effort a few days ago in a dual meet.

Preliminary trials were omitted in some of the field events, leaving a major share of the program to be run off tomorrow.

Elected Captain.
Gainesville, Fla., May 11.—(AP)—Dick Trogen, of Melbourne, junior at the University of Florida, tonight was elected captain of the 1929 varsity track team.

Trogen has been a steady and consistent winner throughout two years of varsity competition. He is a quarter and a half-mile.

Walter Hagen Wins British Open Again

Sandwich, England, May 11.—(United News.)—Another American triumph was registered in the British open golf championship today when Walter Hagen, greatest of the professionals from the United States, won with an aggregate of 292 strokes, two better than his countryman, Gene Sarazen.

The best that a British golfer could achieve in this championship which Britons wanted so badly to bring home was Archie Compston's 295 to take third place.

Continuing the steady improvement he has shown since the championship began, Hagen shot two perfect par rounds today, which proved just the kind of golf needed to win him the British open title for the third time.

Prince Presents Cup.
"It must say we are becoming a bit serious about this cup," said the Prince of Wales, with a smile, as he presented him with the trophy won during the past two years by Bobby Jones, of Atlanta.

The prize referred to the fact that the open championship new has been won by golfers from the United States seven times in eight years.

There was no denying "The Haig's" supremacy over the field at Sandwich, once he settled down to his work. Only little Gene Sarazen had a reasonable chance to overtake the island, smiling champion after Hagen had hung up his aggregate of 292 and had strolled out to watch the late starters shoot at it.

Sarazen set out placidly to cut down Hagen's lead, and for the first six holes of his final round it looked as though Gene might be about to turn the trick. But a six at the difficult seventh hole spoiled Sarazen's chances, and he had to be content with an aggregate of 294 and second money.

The scores of Hagen's consecutive rounds indicate the matter-of-fact way in which the new champion, greatest of the game's "money players," set out to wear down the opposition. Making no attempt to win the qualifying medal, Walter shot a 75 and a 73 to

Watts Gunn Eliminated By Alabamian

Shipp, of Alabama, Defeats Tech Star in 18-Hole Thriller.

BY WHITNER CARY.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.
Nashville, May 11.—A frail-looking lad, carrying the blood-red banner of Alabama into the fiery heat of a first-round southern intercollegiate championship golf match, stood on the seventeenth green of beautiful Belle Meade Friday morning and faced a 12-foot putt, the open doorway to golden's hall of fame and probably the biggest moment of his athletic life.

The dropping of that 12-foot putt meant for Jack Shipp, having that hole and going to the eighteenth, tee box on some other Van Watts Gunn's 1927 southern and national intercollegiate champion. The missing of that 12-footer meant the squaring of a match, that but three holes back looked as good as won for the Alabama entry, and the handiicap of facing that final par five test with the agonizing memory of a three-up lead reduced to the tattered threads of bitter recollection.

A moment of heart-breaking suspense.

Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPIING

SYNOPSIS

Old John Pybus, formerly a bookkeeper in London and later in Winterbourne, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Craven where his son, Conrad, sees him there. He has been estranged from both his sons since the beginning of the war and they have lost track of him. Conrad has to tell his brother, Probyn, that he has seen his father. Probyn's son, Lance Pybus, had believed his grandfather dead, but he looks him up at the Curzon's Head without telling his parents of the meeting. When Lance returns to Cambridge for the last term he invites his grandfather to visit him there.

On leaving Cambridge, Lance takes a small room in London and devotes himself to writing. His father gives him a modest allowance. He still continues to visit his grandfather secretly.

INSTALLMENT XXIV.

BIRDS ON THE WING.

Probyn prevaricated. His attitude towards Lance's career had changed during the last twelve months, but he was not going to tell his wife so. You should never be completely frank with women. Business was all very well, and to Probyn business had meant profits, not the service of making the goods that the multitude needed. He was the financier, not the creator; he manipulated things. And with the present attitude of organized labor and the state of trade he was thinking less and less of creation and more of capital.

"You want him to be a young gentleman at large."

"Well—he's going off for week-ends with some one."

"How do you know?"

"The woman told me."

"Ah," said her husband, "but did she say—?"

"No. But I'm not a fool. Living in a seedy place like that! What are you going to do about it?"

"About what, my dear?"

"His allowance. You know—you agreed—"

"Haven't quite made up my mind yet. It wouldn't be a bad thing for him to try and stand on his own legs for a year."

"But how could he? His writing! Don't be absurd!"

"I had to stand on my own legs. If you throw a pup into the river—"

"Don't be mean."

"Have I ever been mean?"

"No, to do you justice, old lad, you haven't."

"You leave it to me, Dolly. I wasn't born yesterday. I think I know how to handle the lad."

The front door of No. 7 opened two seconds after the door of No. 17 had closed.

It was May and sunny. The sooty lilacs in the raised garden across the way had produced a few pale flower spikes, and the chestnut tree opposite No. 7 was set with wax candles. No. 7 was wearing a new pair of flesh-colored silk stockings, and her hair was very much in vogue.

They met. Lance's eyes were amused as he raised his hat.

"Not working today?"

"I work when I walk."

"So do I—in a sense. But there is no walking to be done this morning. Clothes aren't walking well."

"How's that?"

"Ask the public. There are four of us as 'Mirabeau's'. Instead of sucking two of the four they have let us arrange to take alternate weeks."

"Decent of them."

"Well, what's today good deed?"

"Buying a pair of shoes."

"Serious business?"

"Very. I have out half the shop."

"I'd like to see it."

"All right—why not?"

So, on that May morning they sailed off together like a couple of birds on the wing, and turned into "Jake's" in the avenue, and sat side by side on two chairs. It was amusing and intimate. Shoes and more shoes were unboxed by a patient little slave in spectacles. Lance could not help watching a slim foot crinkling up its toes under the crepitant silk. He was fascinated by those restless toes, veiled and yet visible. They had the feverish and provoking aliveness of their mistress. She used those very red lips of hers almost like a French woman; they seemed to curl outwards and to grow plumper and more sensuous when she talked and smiled.

"Now, what exactly do you want?"

"I want what I want. It's his job, too."

"Evening shoes?"

"Yes, really. I've got a dance on tonight."

She laughed, and made a movement of the shoulders. "She was thinking of this ironical position, that the nephew should be helping her to buy the shoes in which she would dance with the uncle. Yes, she had found that out. Old Conrad was quite silly about her. He had arrived suddenly at that age when an elderly fribbler becomes frightened and sentimental, and desperately eager to make sure of one woman by marrying her before the whole sex found out his fatness. Conrad Pybus had been talking dancing lessons, and Olive Gadsden had happened to be his instructress at the Curzon rooms off Bond street.

Finally she selected a pair of shoes, honey-colored satin, and size three, for she had smallish feet for a girl of her height. Lance did not offer to pay for the shoes; his petty cash was none too abundant, and he was a little surprised that she should be able to afford three guineas, but he supposed that by combining the professions of nun, quack and dancing instructor at the Curzon rooms she did not do so badly. Probably she earned more money than he did.

Nor had he arrived at that state of intimacy with her when a man buys a woman shoes or stockings. A lunch was allowable. He suggested it, and they went off to one of the little places in Soho where a half a crown would run through five courses. They shared a half bottle of burgundy.

Leaving forward, smoking a cigarette and stirring her coffee, she looked him straight in the eyes.

"I'd love to be able to write. Besides—if you make a hooom. But then I don't suppose—"

"My ambition is ninetence a word."

"Well—well!"

"Not for the mere money, mark you, but because my stuff is worth ninetence a word."

"That's rather clever of you. You want to catch the high-brows and make the low-brows pay. After all, the high-brows are a rather useless crowd. They wear slippers and talk psycho-analysis to an audience of three."

He laughed.

"That's about it. I belong to a little high-brow club. Both sexes. None of them will ever do much."

"Freud on the brain."

"The men aren't so bad. But the women—"

"You can't kick a woman."

She protruded her lips at him.

"Not me—at any rate. I'm tough—to a point."

"No. I shouldn't put it like that."

"Hardly. You are half Piccadilly and half the daughter of Commander Gadsden, R. N."

"I don't think I like that. When a girl has to scrap for herself—she has to have a scrapping surface. You don't know the me."

"May I?"

"Perhaps. The fact is—you haven't had to scrap. I shouldn't—unless you're obliged."

"You mean to say—?"

"Sir Probyn Pybus. Only and beloved son. You have only to sit down and write what you please."

"You think so? Let me tell you—writing—he be bloody sweat. You're got to be nailed to a tree."

She allowed herself a sudden gentleman.

"Yes, laddie—I know. You are the serious sort. I was only teasing. Scrapping doesn't make you noble. You have to learn to scrap back."

"Ought a woman to scrap?"

He asked, looking at her mouth.

SENATE PASSES BILL STOPPING PRICE GUESSES

Hein's Measure Making It Felony for Government Employee To Forecast Wines.

SENATOR BRUCE VOTES FOR BILL

Provides Fine of $15,000, Five-Year Prison Term or Both for Guessing at Cotton Price.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Sponsored by Senator Heflin, of Alabama, the senate passed today a bill imposing maximum penalties of $15,000 or five years' imprisonment, or both, on any government official issuing or authorizing publication of cotton price predictions. The measure went through 64 to 10.

The Heflin bill follows up a specific interdiction of price forecasts by the agricultural department inserted in the departmental appropriation bill which was also finally completed today in the senate with adoption of the conference report. No penalties attached, however, to the prohibition in that measure and the Heflin bill proposes to put teeth into the ban upon cotton price predictions. In its original form, the bill would have prohibited such government forecasts as to prices of grain and other agricultural commodities, but these were eliminated by the senate without debate, leaving its application to cotton alone. Senator Heflin originally proposed a penalty of not more than $10,000 or five years, or both, but Bruce, of Maryland, attempted to cut this to $2,500 and two years. Before the Heflin change could be voted on, Heflin shot in a substitute setting the $15,000 and five-year maximum and this went through without a record vote. On the final roll call on the amended bill Bruce first voted no, but changed to yes before the announcement was made.

In the course of the committee hearings department officials explained that the price control work was started three years ago, the purpose of guiding the cotton growers to the orderly marketing of their product at better prices. Committee members without exception, however, insisted that the September statement had served merely to smash the market and virtually every cotton merchant or cotton exchange official examined agreed that it had precipitated the crash. The departmental witness held the downward trend prediction was fully justified because there was a visible surplus of cotton in the world in September of more than 20,000,000 bales offsetting whatever bullish factors were influencing the market.

NEW YORK JURY INDICTS QUARTET IN STREET GRAFT

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Indictments charging grand larceny and forgery were returned today by a Bronx grand jury against four former employees of the city street cleaning department, accused of having helped defraud the city of between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 annually. Warrants were issued for the arrest of five other employees.

On information furnished by William J. Loughhead, a garage foreman, among those indicted, authorities said, the fraud was carried out through falsified pay roll records and petty graft.

District Attorney McGeehan said a check up of 90 names on the Bronx pay roll of the department showed that only five of the persons listed could be located. Some names of persons who never worked for the department and who said they never received any money from it were taken from apartment house letter boxes and placed on the pay roll, authorities said.

China Asks League To Force Japanese Troop Evacuation

Nanking Official Says City Stormed and Men Slain Although War Not Yet Declared.

POWERS FACED BY TECHNICALITIES

Oriental Government Is Not Member; Accused Invaders Must Also Ask for Intervention.

Geneva, May 11.—(United News.)—The nationalist Nanking government of China made a direct appeal to the League of Nations today to intervene against Japan and solve a situation which is threatening to disturb international relations.

The appeal was signed by General Tanyenka, chairman of the nationalist government, and charged the Japanese with unprovoked aggression upon Chinese soldiers and civilians, causing more than a thousand casualties at Tsinan-fu.

Acts of War. Tanyenka called attention to the dispatch of large numbers of troops to Shanghai by Japan and alleged many acts of war had been committed. On May 3, he said, Japanese soldiers at Tsinan-fu fired on Chinese soldiers and civilians without provocation and the shells surrounding residential areas.

Japanese hostilities committed were amount to acts of war," the appeal said. "A party of Japanese soldiers invaded the office of our local commissioner of foreign affairs at Tsinan-fu, arrested him, had his ears and nose cut off, and then shot him, along with three members of his staff, on the very spot." Tanyenka's appeal continued.

Impossible Demands. "Then on May 7 the Japanese military authorities at Tsinan-fu sent a note to our commander-in-chief making unreasonable and impossible demands with a 12-hour limit for a reply, but without awaiting the reply the Japanese troops started warlike action upon an extensive scale and this has not ceased at the present writing."

The Tanyenka appeal was immediately communicated to all members of the league council, governing body of the League of Nations, but it was believed doubtful the league could act, since the Nanking government is not a member. If the Peking government should support the appeal or some other league member should call the council's attention to the situation the league could act.

League Investigation. League intervention and investigation also would be possible should Japan herself demand it. "Japan continued landing more and more military and naval forces despite the fact we acted with the utmost restraint throughout."

"Hence I take the liberty of calling your attention to the fact that China's territorial integrity and political independence have been ruthlessly violated and the peace of the nations threatened by Japanese aggression."

Summen League. "You are urgently requested to summon the league council in accordance with paragraph 2, article 11, of the covenant of the league and earnestly urged to request the cessation of hostilities and the immediate withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shanghai."

"As regards final settlement, the nationalist government is fully conscious of the righteousness of its cause and is ready to accept any proper arrangement for international investigation and arbitration."

FIGHTING RESUMED IN CITY OF TSINAN. Tokyo, May 11.—Fighting between Japanese and Chinese nationalists behind the walled city of Tsinan-fu continued.

ATLANTA RESERVE HEADS SEE GOOD BUSINESS AHEAD

Eugene R. Black Says There Is No Reason Why South Should Not Forge Ahead.

Nashville, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—With business generally sound, the south need fear no drop in its present prosperity and can look forward confidently to fifty years of development ahead of any section of the country. Is the opinion of officers of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta and of George R. Black, member of the federal reserve board at Washington, who arrived here today for the joint meeting of the Atlanta board and the board of directors of the Nashville branch of the bank tomorrow.

Governor Ray A. Young, of the federal reserve board, and Col. J. W. McIntosh, comptroller of the currency, both of Washington, are expected to arrive here tomorrow.

Commercial aviation was a factor cited by the officials as due to have an important part in the progress of the south. It was pointed out that the New York-Atlanta airmail is saving banks of Atlanta and vicinity large sums of interest on money in transit.

"Business as a whole appears to be good in the south," said Mr. Black, "and I see no excuse for pessimism. The south is going to be the coming section of the country in the next half century."

Oscar Newton, active head of the directors of the Atlanta bank, said he could see no reason for pessimism. "The cotton crop has suffered from heavy rains to some extent," he said, "but cotton is an elastic crop and should come back to normal."

"Business looks good to me," said Eugene R. Black, governor of the Atlanta bank, "and I can't see any reason to believe that the south will not progress steadily and rapidly. Capital is coming in, and good roads are being built. The cotton crop is being watered power is being developed. There's nothing gloomy about the outlook from my point of view."

The joint meeting of the boards will be held tomorrow morning following the arrival of Mr. Young and Colonel McIntosh from Washington.

CHILLS AND FEVER HOLD PRINCE CAROL

England Frets as Prince Stays in Bed; May Order Close Watch on Royal Exile.

London, May 11.—(AP)—Chills and a fever were understood to be keeping former-Crown Prince Carol, of Rumania, in bed today as the British government watched to see how soon he would obey the command to leave England by Monday. It was generally thought that France, where he lived quietly for two years, would be Carol's next haven of refuge.

In circles close to the French government it was held that there would be no objection to another sojourn by Carol in that country. His activities never amounted to what might be interpreted as an abuse of French hospitality. He seldom talked for publication, his only two interviews being for the French newspaper, L'Express.

Great surprise was expressed in Paris over Carol's volubility when he reached England and friends said he had been held in check for months by the British government.

The announcement of Sir William Joynton-Hicks, home secretary, in the house of commons, that he hoped Carol would leave by Monday was interpreted as meaning that Carol's plea to be allowed to remain in England, coupled with his promise of good behavior, had been in vain.

FOGS STOP NOBILE ON FIRST FLIGHT TO POLAR REGION

(Copyright, 1928, by The Associated Press.) Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 11.—(AP)—The dirigible Italia was back at its base here tonight after an attempt to fly to the little known Lenin Land, behind the thick fog encountered over the ice fields.

On landing here the hindmost motor truck and was dragged along the ground and will require repairs before another flight is attempted. Umberto Nobile said that the dirigible had reached Franz Josef Land, one of the few bits of land breaking the monotonous stretches of ice and water, when the fog became so impenetrable that nothing could be seen. The dirigible already had encountered adverse conditions in the form of a snowstorm. He said that he tried to find a way through the fog at various heights but all to no purpose.

SENATOR WHEELER INDORSES SMITH AS PARTY CHOICE

Declares Governor Would Stand for Law Enforcement, Aid Farmers and Be True Democrat.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—The candidacy of Governor Smith, of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination was endorsed today by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, a colleague of Senator Walsh, who withdrew from the race last week.

In a letter to W. W. McDowell, chairman of the Montana democratic central committee, Wheeler declared "in my judgment, Governor Smith should be nominated at Houston by acclamation. He is now the best bet of the democrats."

Senator Wheeler, who was a candidate for vice president in the last election on the third party ticket, headed by the late Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, declared in the letter that Smith "is a liberal in the best sense of the word."

Senator Wheeler's letter recalled that he had hoped that a Montanan, his colleague, Senator Walsh, would win the nomination, but that "it became apparent to Senator Walsh, as it did to many of his friends, that the democrats of the nation were in favor of the candidacy of Governor Smith," he added.

"Governor Smith is a born democrat. He has not been weaned or educated or frightened away from the principles of fundamental democracy. His heart beats close enough to the hearts of the plain people for them to hear it throughout the day and night."

He declared the governor's record is such that "I am confident he would, as president, use his best endeavors to place the farmers of the middle west and west and other producers of raw materials on an equal footing with the manufacturers of the east."

The letter continued: "As to the prohibition amendment, Governor Smith favors law enforcement. Under the present administration, with an ex-distiller at the head of the treasury department, we have theoretical enforcement and actual nullification."

"Every right-thinking person deplores the breakdown of law enforcement under the Harding-Coolidge regime, accompanied as it has been by wholesale corruption. It would be impossible for conditions to be worse than they are in this regard today. Under Smith I am sure there would be improvement."

Marseilles, May 11.—(AP)—The former Maharajah of Indore and his bride and Maharanee, the former Nancy Miller, of Seattle, arrived here today.

The two, linked arm in arm walked proudly down the gangplank of the "City of Baroda" to the pier, followed by a retinue of servants and aides, such as an Oriental potentate might well carry with him.

The Maharanee appeared a triple fatigued and her right eye showed a trifling discoloration, the result of a recent slight injury. She wore a black silk dress nearly down to her ankles, a black satin cloak covered with small Indian designs, and three large strings of pearls. Large and most admirably matched. Three magnificent rubies completed her adornment.

The two left for Paris at 6 o'clock on the regular train but a special car had to be added for their baggage, indicating an extended absence from India.

He declared the governor's record is such that "I am confident he would, as president, use his best endeavors to place the farmers of the middle west and west and other producers of raw materials on an equal footing with the manufacturers of the east."

The letter continued: "As to the prohibition amendment, Governor Smith favors law enforcement. Under the present administration, with an ex-distiller at the head of the treasury department, we have theoretical enforcement and actual nullification."

"Every right-thinking person deplores the breakdown of law enforcement under the Harding-Coolidge regime, accompanied as it has been by wholesale corruption. It would be impossible for conditions to be worse than they are in this regard today. Under Smith I am sure there would be improvement."

MAN BADLY CUT BY SON-IN-LAW

J. B. Young Is in Serious Condition at Grady and Samuel Sims Is Under Arrest.

Slashed about the back and stomach Friday night by his son-in-law, J. B. Young, 51, of 20 Baltimore block, was in Grady hospital Friday night in a serious condition, while police held Samuel Sims, of 139 Cain street, N. W., without bond on a blanket charge of suspicion pending outcome of Young's condition.

According to witnesses, Sims called at Young's home and asked permission to see Young's daughter, Simms' estranged wife. Police investigators were told that the father-in-law told Sims to go around to the rear door if he wanted to see his wife. Sims went to the rear door, and when Young threw it open his son-in-law sprang at him with an open knife, according to police reports, slashing him severely about the stomach and back. He was carried to Grady hospital.

Call Officers Bill Holland and John Ector investigated.

MAHARANEE NANCY ARRIVES IN FRANCE DECKED IN GEMS

Marseilles, May 11.—(AP)—The former Maharajah of Indore and his bride and Maharanee, the former Nancy Miller, of Seattle, arrived here today.

The two, linked arm in arm walked proudly down the gangplank of the "City of Baroda" to the pier, followed by a retinue of servants and aides, such as an Oriental potentate might well carry with him.

The Maharanee appeared a triple fatigued and her right eye showed a trifling discoloration, the result of a recent slight injury. She wore a black silk dress nearly down to her ankles, a black satin cloak covered with small Indian designs, and three large strings of pearls. Large and most admirably matched. Three magnificent rubies completed her adornment.

The two left for Paris at 6 o'clock on the regular train but a special car had to be added for their baggage, indicating an extended absence from India.

SENATOR WHEELER INDORSES SMITH AS PARTY CHOICE

Declares Governor Would Stand for Law Enforcement, Aid Farmers and Be True Democrat.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—The candidacy of Governor Smith, of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination was endorsed today by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, a colleague of Senator Walsh, who withdrew from the race last week.

In a letter to W. W. McDowell, chairman of the Montana democratic central committee, Wheeler declared "in my judgment, Governor Smith should be nominated at Houston by acclamation. He is now the best bet of the democrats."

Senator Wheeler, who was a candidate for vice president in the last election on the third party ticket, headed by the late Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, declared in the letter that Smith "is a liberal in the best sense of the word."

Senator Wheeler's letter recalled that he had hoped that a Montanan, his colleague, Senator Walsh, would win the nomination, but that "it became apparent to Senator Walsh, as it did to many of his friends, that the democrats of the nation were in favor of the candidacy of Governor Smith," he added.

"Governor Smith is a born democrat. He has not been weaned or educated or frightened away from the principles of fundamental democracy. His heart beats close enough to the hearts of the plain people for them to hear it throughout the day and night."

He declared the governor's record is such that "I am confident he would, as president, use his best endeavors to place the farmers of the middle west and west and other producers of raw materials on an equal footing with the manufacturers of the east."

The letter continued: "As to the prohibition amendment, Governor Smith favors law enforcement. Under the present administration, with an ex-distiller at the head of the treasury department, we have theoretical enforcement and actual nullification."

HAROLD HAMMOND IS GIVEN RESPITE

Renewal of a desperate fight to save the life of Harold Hammond, condemned to be executed May 18, came Friday when Governor L. G. Hardman granted a 30-day respite to the condemned man to give his attorneys time to submit a plea for a commutation of the death sentence to the state prison commission. The respite also was based on the desire of the governor to study Hammond's mental condition and to give the attorneys time to investigate new evidence in the case upon which they hope to base an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

The respite of Hammond came close after the governor had granted a 90-day respite to Wade Johnson, condemned to execution in Jones county Friday, May 11, after he had won an automatic reprieve when his counsel obtained the signature of the trial judge to a bill of exceptions upon which an appeal will be made to the state supreme court.

Evidence was placed before Governor Hardman Friday by jailers and others who have been observing Hammond recently to the effect that he has been suffering with epileptic fits and is virtually insane. Hammond was convicted of killing Mrs. Lottie Bell Ingram and her infant child about a year and a half ago.

CLAYTON YOUTH LOSES HIS LIFE IN TRUCK WRECK

MARINES TO SPONSOR BALL AT TAFT HALL

With the proposed award of a prize barred to purchasers of tickets to the Marine "Automobile" ball at Taft hall tonight, as the result of a police order, R. C. Anderson, commandant of the Marine Corps League, announced that tickets sold would be good for admission only.

As a result of the police order, issued at the request of an Atlanta church organization, the Marine Corps League has been placed in a very embarrassing predicament, Mr. Anderson pointed out. He announced that the league would refund money to every purchaser who did not desire to contribute such an amount to the cause.

"We hope, however," Mr. Anderson said, "that the larger number of persons who have bought tickets will retain their tickets and attend the dance or allow their tickets to stand as a contribution to a cause which is worthy of public support."

Funds received from the ball will go to decoration of graves, the memorial fund, and general relief account of the local marine league, which is named for a prominent Atlantan who lost his life in service overseas during the world war.

Savannah, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—Dr. C. K. Sharp, of Arlington, was chosen president of the Medical Association of Georgia today in the annual election in the closing session of the convention, in which close races for practically all offices were marked. Twenty ballots were necessary in some races to decide the winners and in only two instances were officers chosen on a single ballot.

Other officers elected were Dr. W. E. Dancy, Savannah, president-elect; Dr. W. C. McCurry, Hartwell, first vice president; Dr. M. Hines Roberts, Atlanta, second vice president, and Dr. A. Clark Macon, parliamentarian, reelected. Delegates elected to the American Medical association were Dr. William H. Meyers, of Savannah, and Dr. E. C. Thrash, of Atlanta. The alternates are Dr. W. A. Mulhern, of Augusta, and Dr. C. S. Roberts, of Atlanta.

Dr. Dancy, the president-elect, was elected on the first ballot. He will assume the presidency without opposition on the expiration of Dr. Sharp's term next year.

CHURCH UNION PLAN RATIFIED

KANSAS City, May 11.—(P)—The Methodist Episcopal church in its quadrennial conference today ratified the plan of church union and announced itself ready to receive and extend overtures for closer cooperation and union with like-minded denominations.

A single commission of 37 members was approved to represent the church in all unification discussions. The personnel of seven bishops, fifteen ministers and fifteen laymen is to be announced by the board of bishops May 21. Expenses of the commission were ordered paid by the general conference.

Overwhelming Vote
The action was taken by a vote of 852 to three. Only technical points were argued in debate and the conference refused to send the resolution back to committee for reconsideration in minor points.

It had received the unanimous approval of 82 members of the committee on state of the church, Dr. Daniel L. Marshall, chairman, and president of Boston university, reported, Dr. Marshall hailed the move as the "one of the most significant things done by any religious body in long time."

TRUCK DRIVER FINED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Although he insisted that his heavy truck was incapable of making over 15 miles per hour, Henry Jones, of 285 E. Harry street, was fined $25 for speeding by Recorder Murphy M. Holloway in police court Friday, after Motorcycle Officer H. O. Carroll testified that he clocked the truck at 25 miles per hour, a speed said to be excessive for such a heavy truck.

by a man and Methodist bodies and with the Congregationalist church was sought in more than a dozen memorials sent to the committee of which today's resolution was the synopsis.

Delegates estimated that unification negotiations in the three churches would involve 60,000 churches, 55,000 pastors and educators, the spiritual interest of about 35,000,000 people and property valued at approximately $1,300,000,000.

ROCKEFELLER GETS OVATION AT MEET

Washington, May 11.—(P)—An ovation of several minutes' duration greeted the introduction of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., last night before the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce of the United States, which previously had gone on record with a severe condemnation of corruption of public officials by men of the business world.

Mr. Rockefeller has demanded the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, as chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, as a result of the latter's testimony before the senate oil committee, but refused to comment further on his action during his visit to Washington.

The prolonged applause and cheers greeted the financier after Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric company, had eulogized him as a great estate, expansionist and defender of high standards in business and elsewhere, promoter and supporter of worthy educational and charitable enterprises everywhere.

Asked regarding Stewart's statement in Chicago, Mr. Rockefeller positively declined to comment. "If I did have anything to say," he said, "it would have to be in writing. I am sure you will appreciate the serious situation and understand by position."

The Standard of Indiana official said that "any communication from any stockholder of the company is entitled to and shall receive from me the most careful consideration," and added that proceedings pending against him in Washington precluded a statement from him at this time. Mr. Rockefeller controls 15 per cent of the Stewart company stock.

Tennessee Sheriff Is Brought Back To Face Charge

Barberton, Ohio, May 11.—(P)—George W. Walker, 58, former Tennessee sheriff, was on his way back to Crossville, Tenn., to face trial for first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Thomas F. Brown, who succeeded him as sheriff of Cumberland county last June.

Walker, captured here at the home of a daughter, was handcuffed and closely watched by three heavily armed officers from Cumberland county as the return trip was started. His escort was Sheriff R. C. Farmer and Deputies Clarence Turner and J. M. Brandon, all of whom had served as deputies under Walker before he was ousted on charges of misconduct.

Walker, waived extradition proceedings. His capture here was made by nine officers who surprised him at the home of his son-in-law, Virgil Potter, rubber worker.

Atlanta Negro Poet Given Degree by Texas College

POEMS SHOW HIS LOVE FOR GEORGIA

Thomas Jefferson Flanagan, negro poet of Atlanta, photographed at his work in the postoffice. His poems have won him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Paul Quinn college at Waco, Texas.

Thomas Jefferson Flanagan, negro poet of Atlanta, has been awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy by Paul Quinn college.

According to news received Friday by Flanagan from the board of trustees of that institution.

This honor was given the Georgia negro by the college because of his "sparkling wit and philosophical turn of his verse. Many of his poems have been printed in The Constitution and this newspaper was one of the first to point out the genuine beauty of Flanagan's work."

The latest book of poems by Flanagan is entitled "The Road to Mount McKethan," and contains more than a dozen of his best works. Among the poems printed in the volume are "On the Road to Mount McKethan," "Down in Dear Old Georgia," "Where the Banjo's Strumming," "Sweet Little Maudie," "Meeting Yvonne," "At Love's Gate," "Where Them Little the Rascals Stay," and "Good-bye Dear Old Sumner."

Recently several prominent magazines published for negroes have carried stories about Flanagan's work and have dwelt at length over the genuine love he shows in his poems for Georgia and for his people in Georgia.

Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight, former state historian of Georgia, and a well known poet, wrote an introduction to Flanagan's book and in this introduction was enthusiastic in his praise of the beauty of the poems.

"He weaves the landscape into his poems," Dr. Knight wrote. "He catches into his rhymes the peculiar notes of our native song birds and gives to his verse, in its almost sentimental flow, the same old familiar rollings of our Georgia fields."

Flanagan holds a responsible position with the United States mail service and writes poems during his spare time.

NYE ASKS SMITH TO AID OIL PROBE

Washington, May 11.—(P)—Chairman Nye, of the senate Treadle Dome committee, wrote to Governor Smith, of New York, today asking whether H. M. Blackmer, former chairman of the board of the Midwest Refining company, could be indicted under the New York law for his failure to make an accounting to his company for his share of the profits of the Continental Trading company of Canada.

Evidence presented to the oil company has been that Blackmer, who is self-exiled in Europe, received a total of $800,000 in the Continental oil deal, which sum, in the form of Liberty bonds, is held in a safety deposit box in New York pending a decision by his former company as to whether any effort shall be made to recover it.

Blackmer has been described to the senate investigators as the moving genius in the Continental deal. The testimony is that he carried through the negotiations with the late A. E. Humphreys, of Colorado, for the purchase of 23,000,000 barrels of oil from his Texas fields and sold it to the Prairie Oil and Gas company, which was a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company through the Continental concern.

TWO MEN ARE HELD IN DEATH OF NEGRO

Following an altercation on April 12 in which Will Waters, negro, suffered injuries which are said to have caused his death at Grady hospital Wednesday, Recorder Murphy M. Holloway Friday ordered Robert Morris, of 257 Whitehall street, and C. N. Covles, of 755 Primrose avenue, two white men, bound over for the Fulton county grand jury on a charge of voluntary manslaughter, under $5,000 bond, in recorder's court.

Lebrun Suicide Mystifies Widow Of Pilot Bonney

New York, May 11.—(P)—The inference in death notes and clippings found in the room of Mrs. Jean Lebrun that she had committed suicide because of the death of Leonard W. Bonney, pioneer aviator, was regarded by Bonney's widow today as due to a delusion.

The notes left by Mrs. Lebrun said she was killing herself because her "sweetheart was killed in an aviation accident Friday." A picture of Bonney and clippings telling of the accident in which he died last Friday while testing his new plane, the Bonney-Gull, were found in the apartment.

"I'm thoroughly convinced he didn't know her," Mrs. Bonney, the former Flora McDonald, daughter of James A. McDonald, one time associate of the late Senator William A. Clark, of Montana, said. She added she was sure it was a matter of delusion from a distance. "For instance," she said, "could you blame Rudolph Valentino for all the silly women who killed themselves over his death?"

Mrs. Lebrun, a vaudeville actress, took her life by turning on the gas in the kitchen of her West 88th street apartment. She was 35 years old and a daughter of the late Bishop John James Tigert, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Her maiden name was Amelia Tigert and her home was in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. John James Tigert, of Washington, United States commissioner of education, and Dr. Holland Tigert, of Nashville, are brothers. She married Ernest Cooper, of Shelbyville, Tenn., and a divorce followed. Lebrun was a stage name.

LITTLE GIRL'S ARM FRACTURED IN FALL

Tripping on a rug in her home late Friday while at play, little Dorothy Underwood, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Underwood, of 176 Capitol avenue, sustained a fractured right arm, according to reports at Grady hospital.

Anna Ruth Turkel, former candy seller at the Metropolitan, who toured the country last fall with the New York Opera company, has been affiliated for Miss Ponselle.

Carmela is a sister of Rosa Ponselle, also a Metropolitan star, and has been with the company since 1925.

SMITH HOPE DIES IN ALABAMA POLL

Birmingham, Ala., May 11.—(AP)—With four delegates at large and eight district delegates officially checked into its column, the anti-Smith faction appeared tonight to have made virtually a clean sweep of the contests for Houston delegation in last Tuesday's primary.

Tabulation of 1280 precincts out of the 1,323 in the state showed the delegates at large to be: A. H. Carmichael, 122,935 votes; Harry M. Ayers, 111,865; Borden Barr, 105,755; and T. S. Faulk, 58,241.

The majority of the votes in the state-wide tabulation were official returns as canvassed by the county sub-committees for certification to the executive state committee.

Exact Vote Delayed.
Incomplete returns from five of the 10 congressional district races not definitely decided, indicated election of anti-Smith candidates, but the exact outcome may not be known until the whole vote is officially checked and announced from Montgomery.

Walter Moore, incumbent, lost to Walt T. Brown in the race for national committeeman, 65,194 to 80,698, while John L. Darden, D. Garner was returned to the associate supreme court bench by a majority of nearly 2 to 1 over J. W. Bonner. The vote: Gardner 58,108; Bonner 48,703.

Norman is Loser.
E. R. Norman failed by 54,000 votes to succeed Hugh White as president of the public service commission. The vote: White, 95,800; Norman, 41,801.

Houston delegates elected from the congressional districts on the face of unofficial figures were: First district, David H. Ellington and A. S. Johnson; second district, A. T. Kendrick and D. H. Powell; sixth district, Thomas E. Seals and William J. Foster; seventh district, Wells Chestnut and J. B. Wadsworth; ninth district, Graham Perdue and Samuel Dawson.

J. A. Benson and H. L. Reeder were leading in the eighth district, while D. C. Cooper and H. M. Comer were ahead in the fourth district. The position of Seale and Foster, successful candidates in the sixth district in regard to the Smith issue was not clearly known.

have a girl to send to Asheville will be able to hold her own in every respect with the sponsors to be sent by fifteen other southern and western states.

The Constitution wants as many nominations as possible because a first and second and third place award will be made. The first award will be given to the girl who is to serve as sponsor for Georgia and in the event this girl cannot make the trip to Asheville the second girl will serve. If the second girl, for any reason, cannot accept the honor the third girl will be selected.

All expenses to and from Asheville and at Asheville during the Rhododendron Festival week will be paid. The girl who will represent Georgia will be the guest of honor with the other sponsors at the grand Rhododendron hall and will ride in the Rhododendron parade.

Because of the immense amount of interest stirred in the state as a result of this contest some of the organizations nominating girls for the honor have stated that they will send their nominee to the festival regardless of the outcome of the contest. In such a case the girl would go simply as a visitor to the festival but unquestionably would receive many social attentions during the event.

"Beauty" Operation Victim Sues Doctor for $200,000

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—Miss Sadie Holland, whose legs were amputated above the knees after a "beauty" operation, has filed a $200,000 suit against Dr. J. Schreiner, Chicago plastic surgeon.

The declaration of the suit sets forth on September 30, 1927, the plaintiff went to Dr. Schreiner for treatment of a scar on her arm. The doctor told her that her legs were slightly "bowled" and that he could easily straighten them, her complaint said.

The document further states that on January 14 she paid the doctor $800 for the operation, which was performed three days later, that gangrene set in and that her family physician was forced to order amputation of both legs as a result.

Details of Mrs. Holland's death were received at the local headquarters of the mission today in a letter from Kiatinifu written on May 3 by Miss Helen Stumley, a member of the mission.

Miss Stumley wrote: "The killing occurred on April 29 after the nationalists had arrived and fighting was proceeding. We were warned that it was unsafe to leave the compound, but did not know we were being made targets. Mrs. Holland left the sitting room where she had been reading and went to a bedroom which has a small window above the door facing the city. She was hit by a bullet through the window fired from the wall. She was conscious ten minutes and died in a few hours."

"From that time on we lived in the basement of the mission building, being afraid to go to the upper floors. The building was not known what we called a group of southern soldiers was being fired. This is the first opportunity to get over the wall. The Chinese students are living in the basement with the missionaries. The Chinese people have nothing about Tsinan and didn't even know that the southerners were near until the northerners had failed."

The present situation of the missionaries in Tsinan is not known at the local headquarters, but it is not believed that they have been able to evacuate the city. All attempts to communicate with them from Shanghai have failed.

Other Methodists at Tsinan are Dr. Hobart and the Misses Frances Hendler and William Grege, who were hit by a bullet from the wall. The Hobarts are from Evanston, Ill. They have two daughters who are missionaries in China, but are now in the United States.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—"A giant monopoly" of the radio industry was charged in the senate today by Senator Dill, democrat, of Washington, in introducing a bill to regulate use of patents.

Dill charged that the Radio Corporation, the General Electric, Westinghouse, the American Telephone and Telegraph and the United Fruit corporation were in the radio trust.

Montgomery, Ala., May 11.—(AP)—Seventy-nine planes on spring maneuvers landed at Maxwell field, government airport here, from Fort Benning, Ga., at 11:15 o'clock today. The planes will remain here until Monday morning when the flight is to be resumed.

EXPERTS EXAMINE
AIRWAY MARKERS
FOR U. S. AIR ROUTES

Wichita, Kan., May 11.—(AP)—Designs for airway markers were studied here today by government and commercial pilots with a view to perfecting an organization to mark the nation's main air routes on a scale comparing favorably to the systems used on transcontinental highways.

The airways marking conference, sponsored by the chamber of commerce, opened here yesterday with aviators describing the difficulties encountered because of poorly marked airways and air ports. William P. McCracken, assistant secretary of commerce, in charge of aeronautic activities, is on route here to assist in judging the designs submitted.

Some of the reports from states which Good said he had requested and which he laid before the committee went into detail as to how money was spent. Others did not and some made no mention of receipts. As to the Washington headquarters, he told the committee the largest item of the $42,032 outlay was for office rent, supplies and expenses at the hotel where headquarters are maintained.

The former Iowa representative prefaced his recital of figures with a lengthy review of what the Hoover organization set out to do several months ago and of its accomplishments. Senator McMaster, republican, of South Dakota, interrupted several times to say the committee did not want to hear "a campaign speech in favor of the commerce secretary, but wanted to get to the real facts regarding the financing of his campaign."

Upon the completion of his prepared statement, Good was questioned for more than half an hour by the senate investigators.

Asserting that every penny that had been spent on Hoover's behalf had been spent economically, the one-time member of congress said the Hoover supporters had been confronted with the task of overcoming "false" reports concerning their candidate.

Asked if these reports had been circulated entirely by Hoover's opponents for the republican presidential nomination, Good said that some of the candidates for the democratic nomination had been active in this regard.

"What were these charges?" inquired Senator Barkley, democrat, of Kentucky.

"There was a number," Good replied. "One was that Mr. Hoover was not an American citizen."

"What were some of the other reports you had to combat?"

"That Mr. Hoover was not a republican."

"You had to spend a great deal of money to combat the public that he was a republican?" Barkley pursued.

"It was contended that of his own free will he had entered the Kluge primary of 1920 as a democrat, the witness replied."

"That was disproved. It was said that he made fortune out of the Boxer rebellion. That was disproved."

"It was said that he handled billions of dollars in relief work during and after the war without any accounting being made. The facts were that every dollar of that was accounted for."

"It was charged that he fixed the price of wheat. It was shown that a

AMERICAN WOMAN TARIFF REVISION BY U. S. IS URGED

Shanghai, May 11.—(AP)—Mrs. William T. Hobart, of the American Methodist mission at Tsinanfu, near Tsinan, was killed on April 29 by a bullet fired through a small window in her bedroom from an opposite wall during fighting between the nationalists and northerners.

Details of Mrs. Hobart's death were received at the local headquarters of the mission today in a letter from Kiatinifu written on May 3 by Miss Helen Stumley, a member of the mission.

FAMOUS IMPOSTER
LOCKED UP AGAIN
FOR OLD STUNTS

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Sterling Clifford Wyman, once described as the world's greatest imposter of famous persons, who has been locked up again for old stunts.

Wyman, who has been locked up again for old stunts, was sentenced to three years in the Atlanta penitentiary after he had posed as a naval officer in effecting a reception by the late President Harding for Princess Fatima of Afghanistan. At other times he represented himself as an aviator and the personal physician of Pola Negri.

He won a position as secretary to Dr. Adolph Loebeck, Vienna surgeon, but was discharged when his identity was disclosed.

At his trial today he said he is a graduate of Hamilton college in Chicago and had been admitted to the bar in Georgia, Illinois and Washington, District of Columbia.

Committee appointed by President Wilson performed great function. This led McMaster to propound several questions.

"Did Mr. Hoover protest against this action?" he asked.

"I do not know what it was up to him to do so."

In other words, he agreed to that deal."

"I do not know that it was up to him to do that," Good replied, with a short of hand gesture.

Good's examination will be resumed by the committee tomorrow. Other prospective witnesses for the immediate future are Senator McMaster, Indiana, who defeated Hoover in the republican primaries of that state Tuesday, and Frank O. Lowden, Illinois, who is one of the avowed candidates for the republican nomination.

LINDBERGH DENIES THOUSANDTH TIME BUSINESS RUMORS

New York, May 11.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune will say tomorrow that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh spent today in conference with Harry E. Goetz, president, and Colonel Henry Breckenridge, former assistant secretary of war.

While an "important project" is under consideration, Colonel Lindbergh insisted his plans are indefinite.

The "important project," the paper will say, dates back at least to February when Colonel Breckenridge made a flight from New York to Havana to meet Lindbergh for a conference.

One guess, unsubstantiated today, was that Lindbergh might fly across the Pacific to resume his role of "good-will ambassador," this time in the Orient.

Although there was nothing to show any relation stock of two leading aeronautical corporations, Curtiss and Wright, rose to new high levels, coincident with Colonel Lindbergh's arrival in New York. Rumors were current in Wall street that the two companies were to merge with Lindbergh taking a high-salaried post.

This rumor, however, found no comfort in Lindbergh's statement made by him tonight that "I am not connected with any commercial company," the Herald-Tribune will say.

FAMOUS PLANE PLACED ON EXHIBITION.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh's famous plane, the "Spirit of St. Louis," today made its last journey. Dismantled, and borne in sections, two army trucks, the ship was taken from Bolling field to the Smithsonian Institution where it will be placed on permanent exhibition.

The Arts and Industries building which will house the ship will be closed tomorrow while mechanics reassemble the New York-to-Paris trail blazer. The plane then will be suspended over the heads of onlookers in the place formerly occupied by the first American battle plane, powered by the first Liberty motor.

STEWART DELAYS
ACTION ON ORDER FOR RESIGNATION

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—Any action that Colonel Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, might take as a result of the request of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that he resign, was delayed today at the company's offices, must await court proceedings now pending in Washington.

Colonel Stewart's testimony before the Senate Committee on Commerce regarding the Continental Trading company deal involving the Standard and Sinclair companies, which was interrupted by two prison terms, was placed before the federal grand jury in the capital yesterday.

Colonel Stewart, his office said, will remain here until May 21 when he will go to Washington to appear in a contempt action growing out of his appearance before the senate committee.

Officials said no meeting of stockholders or directors of the company has been called and no action is in immediate prospect as a result of the request for the resignation.

Remnants of the nationalist army are entrenched in the walled city which was breached by Japanese artillery and machine guns. The Japanese advance was halted by negotiations for the surrender of the southerners.

Outside the city of Tsinan-fu the Japanese gradually are clearing a wide area of scattered nationalist units, who are making a stubborn resistance and subjecting the Japanese to almost continuous sniping.

The Japanese forces are handicapped by lack of land grenades.

An airplane dropped leaflets within the walled city advising the nationalists to surrender there to surrender, but they at first refused. Later it was reported negotiations were proceeding and fighting had temporarily ceased.

The fighting outside the city, as the Japanese extend the area they hold is reported to have been heavy, with the Chinese suffering the heavier casualties.

HEFLIN AGAIN HITS HOOVER AND SMITH

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—A demand that both parties join to crush the presidential aspirations of Secretary Hoover and Governor Smith, of New York, was made in the senate today by Senator Hefflin, democrat, of Alabama.

Hefflin suggested that the senate presidential campaign funds committee call Senator Watson and his supporters to find what the Hoover forces spent in Indiana, friends of the late Senator Willis to find out expenses on Hoover's behalf in Ohio, and that they "go back to New York and call every contractor" to find what they contributed to the Smith campaign.

"Smith is not going to be nominated," Hefflin said. "Woolen has Indiana. Donahue will hold Ohio. Reed has more than 100 delegates and the solid south will be there to the end against Smith."

"And Watson's victory in Indiana has fixed Hoover's fate," Hefflin said. "The Alabamian declared his fight against the Roman Catholic church was not indicated by primary results in his state, friends of the late Mayor William A. Guenter, of Montgomery, for delegate at large to the democratic national convention."

partment, to explain the need of immediate action.

Captain Eaker and Lieutenant Fairchild, piloting the army planes, were members of the army good will flight that covered more than 20,000 miles on visits through Central and Latin American countries. They also piloted Assistant Secretary Davidson and General Echert on their recent inspection trip to Panama and back.

Captain Eaker has had about 550 hours in flying amphibians; Lieutenant Fairchild about 400 hours.

All preparations are being taken by the army air corps to insure the success of the mission. In case of a forced landing in the isolated regions over which their course lies, the fliers will carry a six days' supply of army emergency rations.

FLIERS PLAN TO HOP BACK TO BERLIN.

Chicago, May 11.—(United News.) The German-Italian crew of the Bremen are considering flying the plane in which they traversed the Atlantic from east to west, back to Berlin with Boston as a starting point, they said here today.

The three European fliers were resting here today in preparation for Chicago's official reception Saturday in which a parade through Michigan boulevard to Soldiers' field will be the feature.

Captain Herman Koehl in discussing the contemplated flight to Berlin said that the crew's definite plan for the future had not been shared. The flight, however, had been discussed by Koehl and his companions, Major James Fitzmaurice and Baron von Huenefeld.

Major Fitzmaurice, when questioned about the proposed air trip to Berlin, said it was possible that this would be done, but that no agreement had been made as yet to do so.

GEORGIA D. A. ATTEND BIG MEET

Athens, Ga., May 11.—(P)—Georgia disabled veterans of the world war assembled in one of their best attended conventions here today when Commander Howard H. Glenn called the sixth session to order. Approximately 200 veterans and their wives were present.

Three addresses along service and rehabilitation lines were the outstanding events of the first session. These were preceded by welcoming addresses from officials of the city and educational institutions.

John M. Sinton, Jr., of the Atlanta veterans' bureau, and J. G. C. Bloodworth, state service officer, outlined the work being done for the veterans. Dr. Andrew Soule, president of the state college of agriculture, made an address on "Farm Rehabilitation."

Officers will be elected and next year's meeting place chosen at the business session tomorrow. Various organizations here entertained the veterans today.

Housing Welcome.
The veterans were given a rousing welcome. Preparatory to the opening session the drum and bugle corps of the Atlanta division of Trench Rats paraded and then disbanded at the V. M. C. A., where the sessions are being held.

State Commander Howard H. Glenn presided over the meetings today. Heals of various organizations and representatives of the city and educational institutions were lavish in their words of welcome to the veterans. The first to welcome them to the city was Commissioner J. H. Rucker, representing Mayor A. G. Dudley, who is out of the city. The response to the city's welcome came from the fifth district executive committee, J. K. Finch, Atlanta.

Following Mr. Finch's response taps were sounded in memory of those who lost their lives in the world war and buddies of the veterans who have "gone west."

Chancellor Emeritus David C. Barrow extended the visitors a warm welcome. He was loudly applauded and Commander Glenn paid him a tribute in response, referring to him as a great friend of the disabled veterans and all ex-service men of the war.

Chancellor Charles M. Snelling welcomed the veterans and their wives to the university and related briefly the part its students and alumni played in the great war. He also invited the visitors to be guests at the Georgia-Oglethorpe baseball game Friday afternoon.

As Warren Chandler, commander of the American Legion, Georgia department, spoke to the veterans as the head of the parent association and pledged the efforts of the legion to greater service for those who were disabled on account of the war.

PROCEEDS WILL GO TO CHURCH FUND

Mrs. Wiggs' children "plucking" cabbages from their mother's patch. Mrs. Wiggs and her children will be a feature of the benefit lawn circus at Pineblow Saturday.

The late P. T. Barnum perhaps would have cringed in envy could he have witnessed the aggregation of "big top" stars and attractions that have been selected to participate in the benefit lawn circus Saturday afternoon at Pineblow, the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Arkwright, in Druid Hills. The circus, which according to the press agent, should not only rival but outclass the late Mr. Barnum's "greatest show in the world," is being given as a benefit for the church fund of the First Methodist church.

Cox Will Make Fulton School Trip to New York Children Meet With Emory Club In Field Events

President Harvey W. Cox, of Emory university, will accompany the Emory club to New York city for its farewell concert there on June 7, the evening of the club's sailing on its second European tour, it was announced Friday.

A request for 1,050 tickets to the concert in New York, to be used by the members of the southern society there, was one of the inducements causing Dr. Cox to decide to accompany the singers. The order for the tickets was received Friday from Hilson Cephas, secretary of the southern society, who stated that the announcement of the Emory Glee club's forthcoming visit had been enthusiastically received.

Dr. Cox will speak at the luncheon to be given in the afternoon by the New York Emory Alumni chapter. J. Fred Allen, New York banker, and president of the Emory club, also is a prominent member of the Southern society. Mr. Allen has presented the Waldorf-Astoria ballroom to the club for its first concert in the metropolis.

The New York concert will be the last of three farewell programs to be presented by the "south's sweetest singers" in this country. The first will be in Atlanta on Friday, May 18, at the city auditorium, and the next in Savannah on June 4.

COUPLE INDICTED IN ALLEGED THEFT OF RENTED AUTO

Elizabeth Cason, 21, who gave her address as 63 Cain street, N. E., and Harold E. Gilbert, 21, were in Fulton County Friday night charged with stealing a sedan from a "drive-it-yourself" garage on Auburn avenue, and driving it to South Carolina.

The pair were jointly indicted by the grand jury Friday afternoon. The Cason girl is said to have signed for the car last Sunday in the presence of young Gilbert, who is quoted as having said they "would bring it back Sunday night." When the machine had been overdue some 24 hours, the garage reported the underwriters were notified, and the couple was apprehended Tuesday in Columbia, S. C., by Sheriff Heise, of that city.

City Detective C. E. Barrett returned them to Atlanta Friday, where they are being held in default of $1,000 bonds each.

While Gilbert did not sign for the machine, he is charged with theft on the strength of his alleged participation in the transaction.

Smith - Kenny Friendship Began in Boyhood Days

New York, May 11.—(P)—A friendship of 35 years that started when both were boys on New York's lower East Side attracted attention today as the result of the revelation that William F. Kenny contributed $20,000 and loaned $50,000 more to Governor Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the democratic presidential nomination.

Kenny, after a varied career in Texas as a cowboy and a railroad worker, returned to New York to accumulate a fortune as a contractor. He never has been active in politics. Testimony before the senate campaign fund investigating committee by George R. Van Name, Governor Smith's pre-convention campaign manager, of Kenny's contributions, caused no surprise among the friends of the two men.

The governor, speaking of his friendship with Kenny, recently said: "There is nothing in the world that Bill Kenny wouldn't do for me. Why Bill Kenny would take his shirt off for me, if there was any call for it." Kenny, at one time, discussing his relationship with the governor, said: "I count my warm friendship with Al Smith one of the most happy events in my career. But my relationship with him goes no further than that. He does not ask me for advice. I do not offer any. The governor's private and political life is an open book. Anybody can read it. The governor is a most remarkable man. He does not need an adviser."

Kenny is a general contractor. Testimony was given before the senate committee that he had handled contract work for public utility corporations, installing pipes, mains and conduits and repairing roads torn up for the repairs. Inquiry also was made whether he was the same Kenny who had submitted bids for the purchase of government vessels from the United States shipping board.

"Mr. Kenny is a man of great wealth, isn't he?" Senator Barkley asked.

"Oh, yes," Van Name replied. "He is very wealthy. I don't think $70,000 matters to the least to him. He would do anything for the governor because of his friendship for him."

Kenny's father was a battalion chief in the fire department, and a hero to the youthful Al Smith, whose father was a truckman. The two boys were constant companions in and out of the fire house.

Young Kenny ran away from home and Smith stayed in New York and went into politics, but the two never lost touch.

Returning to New York in 1908 Kenny was married to Miss Mary J. Hickey, and with $2,400 in the treasury they started housekeeping. Friends of Smith suggest that when he was married soon after, his financial status probably was little better.

In time Kenny built up a contracting business described as one of the biggest in the state, with an annual turnover estimated at around $400,000. His fortune is said to be in the vicinity of $300,000 to $400,000.

A small, plump man who retains his boyhood love for firemen and the atmosphere of the firehouse, he loves to gather about him a small group of kindred spirits for an informal beef steak dinner at his "diner room," which takes up most of two stories in a twenty-third street office building. The governor has been his guest frequently in a private railroad car for trips to golf courses.

Kenny's philosophy is expressed in his own words: "Money is useful for just two things. One is to provide for family needs, and the other is to use it to entertain friends. That is what I do with mine."
